Scope

The scope of the study refers to the parameters under which the study will be operating. The problem you seek to resolve will fit within certain parameters. Think of the scope as the domain of your research—what's in the domain, and what is not. You need to make it as clear as possible what you will be studying and what factors are within the accepted range of your study. For example, if you are studying the ill effects of bullying on middle school children, the scope could include both face-to-face bullying and cyber-bullying in grades 6 through 8.

Limitations

Limitations are matters and occurrences that arise in a study which are out of the researcher's control. They limit the extensivity to which a study can go, and sometimes affect the end result and conclusions that can be drawn. Every study, no matter how well it is conducted and constructed, has limitations. This is one of the reasons why we do not use the words "prove" and "disprove" with respect to research findings. It is always possible that future research may cast doubt on the validity of any hypothesis or conclusion from a study. Your study might have access to only certain people in an organization, certain documents, and certain data. These are limitations. Subsequent studies may overcome these limitations.

Limitations of Qualitative Studies

A limitation associated with qualitative study is related to validity and reliability. "Because qualitative research occurs in the natural setting it is extremely difficult to replicate studies" (Wiersma, 2000, p. 211). When you select certain methodologies and designs, for example phenomenology, they come with limitations over which you may have little control.

Action Research from Concept to Presentation: a Practical Handbook to Writing Your Master's Thesis Peter K. Lynch, Ryan C. Welch, 2014-07-03 Perhaps the most daunting graduate school requirement is the development of an action research Masters thesis This capstone task requires unprecedented amounts of time energy and verbiage Designed to take stress out of the thesis writing equation this student friendly comprehensive handbook glides the reader through a 28 step process from developing a focal topic to defending a scholarly thesis Framing each chapter as a one week action assignment the authors have broken down the process into manageable chunks to enable students writers to achieve an immediate sense of completion at every step By using this scaffolding approach the the authors encourage the student researcher to focus on one part of the process rather than the total sometimes overwhelming final product With the exception of the Review of the Literature section which takes several weeks to complete all other thesis sections can and should be timed out for seven days The Authors primary objective was to empower the student researcher to accomplish each of the steps in the process while never losing sight on the product that will help the children in their classrooms Whether developing an Abstract or writing in text citations student researchers are guided throughout the nuances of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association's 6th Edition

The CONTRIBUTING FACTORS TO THE NURSING FACULTY SHORTAGE Patricia I. Newman, 2013-07-25 The current qualitative phenomenological study involved identifying and exploring the factors contributing to the nursing faculty shortage of Western Massachusetts Through interviews 24 participants including 5 for the pilot study identified and discussed the reasons why they chose not to teach or to continue to teach and why registered nurses did not choose faculty teaching as a career track in education Poor salaries were the primary factor contributing to the shortage of nursing faculty in Western Massachusetts Participants provided personal insight and suggestions concerning various educational institutions in Western Massachusetts and participated in a Massachusetts survey that examined many suggestions to alleviate the faculty shortage in Western Massachusetts

The Relationship Between Chaotic Events and Credit Union Leadership Practices Dr. Paul Withey, 2015-06-01 Organizational crises in modern society requires an immediate response Chaotic stages occur during organizational changes resulting in emotional experiences for leaders who develop intense feelings of anger shock and frustration Leaders who are not prepared will be overwhelmed by the need for an aggressive response to change The ability to solve problems successfully will increase movement of the organization through the chaos stage Building a foundation of preparation for a leader prior to the organizational change stage will decrease levels of dysfunction the organization may experience It is time for a new approach to managing organizational chaos The research in this book provides original contributions to leadership studies by applying general systems and chaos theory to leadership behaviors in times of crisis Chaos theory offers different perspectives that will allow leaders to develop capacities for changing their existing approaches to chaotic events Results from the research in this study are valuable to credit union leaders and also all business leaders who need new models that recognize external factors influencing the sustainability of the organization This adaptability is one of the most effective leadership skills a leader can display Higgs Rowland 2005 Introducing general systems and chaos theory into organizational leadership has become a new approach to leadership psychology and philosophy promising to influence leadership and management theories Burns 2002 The significance of chaos theory for leadership studies lies in its heuristic power If the challenges to normal events are observed through the lens of chaos theory organizational leaders may make better informed decisions in times of uncertainty

Understanding and Evaluating Research Sue L. T. McGregor, 2017-10-25 Understanding and Evaluating Research A Critical Guide shows students how to be critical consumers of research and to appreciate the power of methodology as it shapes the research question the use of theory in the study the methods used and how the outcomes are reported The book starts with what it means to be a critical and uncritical reader of research followed by a detailed chapter on methodology and then proceeds to a discussion of each component of a research article as it is informed by the methodology The book encourages readers to select an article from their discipline learning along the way how to assess each component of the article and come to a judgment of its rigor or quality as a scholarly report

The Implementation Challenges to Bring Your Own Device Concept (BYOD) in Relation to Information Assurance and Security Janvan Munyoki, 2023-03-07

Doctoral Thesis Dissertation from the year 2016 in the subject Computer Science Commercial Information Technology grade 3 923 Capella University School of Technology course PHD in Information Technology language English abstract Research conducted by Tech Pro 2014 indicated that the Bring Your Own Device BYOD concept is gaining momentum with 74% of organizations already having some BYOD program or planning to implement one While BYOD offers several benefits it also presents challenges that concern information technology leaders and information security managers This correlational study used the systems theory framework to examine the relationship between information security managers intentions perceptions of security and compliance regarding BYOD implementation Participants of the study consisted of information security managers in Kenya who had obtained the Certified Information Systems Manager certification Data was collected from 54 information security managers through a survey instrument The survey instrument integrated three other instruments with proven reliability developed by other researchers Data was analyzed using a multiple regression analysis to test for a relationship between the variables of the study security compliance and intent to implement BYOD The multiple regression conducted in this study was insignificant indicating a relationship did not exist between the study s variables $F(2, 86) = 0.33, p = 0.718, R^2 = 0.00$ A significant negative relationship was found between security and compliance indicating a weakly negative correlation $r = -0.26, p = 0.016$ Using the results from the study information technology leaders may be able to develop strategies from which to implement BYOD successfully Implications for social change include increased knowledge of securing personal devices for employees and consumers in general and reduction in costs associated with security and data breaches

The significance of female labour force participation in a recovering economy Chloe Mahtaney, 2016-05-04 Master s Thesis from the year 2015 in the subject Business economics Business Management Corporate Governance grade Distinction South Bank University London London South Bank University School of Business course MBA language English abstract This dissertation considers that increasing Female Labour Force Participation (FLFP) can highly contribute during the recovery process of an economy in crisis and how the Cyprus job market has changed from pre to post crisis resulting in a high demand for jobs today High demand for jobs means that employers have a surplus of potential candidates to select from and therefore it can be assumed that they will be inclined to selecting candidates that can work under the terms of the employer In most cases the demographic that is most likely be able to live up to those terms are the men in the Cyprus labour force While beneficial in the short run in respect of keeping HR budgets low the dissertation questions how this may impact companies in the long run in terms of job satisfaction and performance Assessment of the level of Work Life Balance (WLB) offered by corporate organisations is determined through primary and secondary forms of research and investigates whether or not it correlates to the lack of female decision makers and the Gender Pay Gap in Cyprus It identifies that the gender discrimination in the workplace in Cyprus does very much still exist namely due to traditionalist corporate cultures that are still in place as well as examining limitations imposed on women in terms of achieving senior roles in the workplace The rationale for primarily determining the current existence of these problems is to bring another assumed problem to the table of which that is the lack of flexible work options that Cyprus has on offer and in turn how opening the doors to more FLFP can benefit the private sector s performance in the market and in turn vastly contribute in terms of profitability to a recovering economy

Organizational culture persistence versus change at IKEA. How it is expressed and experienced over time in a company with a cultural focus Anna Lena Bischoff, 2021-03-31 Master s Thesis from the year 2017 in the subject Business economics Business Management Corporate Governance grade 1 7

Linneaus University language English abstract The Research question of this thesis is How is organizational culture expressed and experienced over time in a company with a cultural focus The purpose is to describe how a multinational company with a strong focus on the management of culture and values re interprets their core cultural values in the face of modernization and internationalization At the same time the preservation of the cultural core is investigated by looking at how culture is expressed at the case company The research design of this study is a qualitative case study with the collection of empirical data through interviews observations and organizational documents Abductive reasoning was employed to serve the exploratory layout of the study A constructivist ontological and interpretivist epistemological position was taken Quality criteria relevant for qualitative research studies were considered Organizational culture is one of the most prominent topics in academia and has gained its status due to the transferability from academia into managerial practice Today organizational culture has become an institutionalized topic and scholars call for a need to revive the topic Inconsistency with organizational culture and organizational vision external market pressure and a changing composition of the workforce ask to adapt organizational culture to current times
