The Oxford Handbook of Language Policy and Planning James W. Tollefson, Miguel Pérez-Milans, 2018-05-07 This Handbook provides a state of the art account of research in language policy and planning LPP Through a critical examination of LPP the Handbook offers new direction for a field in theoretical and methodological turmoil as a result of the socio economic institutional and discursive processes of change taking place under the conditions of Late Modernity Late Modernity refers to the widespread processes of late capitalism leading to the selective privatization of services including education the information revolution associated with rapidly changing statuses and functions of languages the weakening of the institutions of nation states along with the strengthening of non state actors and the fragmentation of overlapping and competing identities associated with new complexities of language identity relations and new forms of multilingual language use As an academic discipline in the social sciences LPP is fraught with tensions between these processes of change and the still powerful ideological framework of modern nationalism It is an exciting and energizing time for LPP research This Handbook propels the field forward offering a dialogue between the two major historical trends in LPP associated with the processes of Modernity and Late Modernity the focus on continuity behind the institutional policies of the modern nation state and the attention to local processes of uncertainty and instability across different settings resulting from processes of change The Handbook takes great strides toward overcoming the long standing division between top down and bottom up analysis in LPP research setting the stage for theoretical and methodological innovation Part I defines alternative theoretical and conceptual frameworks in LPP emphasizing developments since the ethnographic turn including ethnography in LPP historical discursive approaches ethics normative theorizing and transdisciplinary methods and the renewed focus on socio economic class Part II examines LPP against the background of influential ideas about language shaped by the institutions of the nation state with close attention to the social position of minority languages and specific communities facing profound language policy challenges Part III investigates the turmoil and tensions that currently characterize LPP research under conditions of Late Modernity Finally Part IV presents an integrative summary and directions for future LPP research

Language Policy in Ethiopia Mekonnen Alemu Gebre Yohannes, 2021-02-18 This book examines the interplay and tensions between hegemonic and counter hegemonic language policy and processes in Tigray a regional state of Ethiopia in the period of pre and post 1991 Viewing language use and language policy as dynamic social and ideological processes the book presents Ethiopia as an example of language policy creation and implementation over time in a highly volatile political context The case of Ethiopia is unique in that different language policies and practices were put in place as the country's leaders changed through political takeovers Declared language policies were not always implemented and those implemented were often protested The book starts with an overview and review of language policy and planning followed by a chapter on the history of such planning in Ethiopia It then presents the methodology used for the study and examines the appropriation of hegemonic LPP patterns of resistance schools and public sites as centers of resistance and the emergence and development of specific patterns of language use in different regions of the country The book ends with recommendations for future research and draws the overall conclusion that since LPP is a dynamic and multilayered contextual process official or de facto language policy is often undermined by overt or covert unofficial language policies ideologies mechanisms and agents that result in different patterns of language use
