Money, Payment Systems and the European Union Gabriella Gimigliano, 2016-12-14 When the term governance is associated with money the mind goes directly to the traditional regulatory paradigm i e the nation State Central Banking Currency However over time there has been a steady erosion of the nation states sovereignty also in the area of monetary law This process of erosion is still working from within and externally to the nation State or in other words from upwards to downwards and vice versa Moving from upwards to downwards highly interconnected financial markets have urged the national competent authorities to improve the global level of coordination in terms of sharing regulatory standards supervisory models and risk monitoring procedures In the downwards upwards direction the concept of sovereignty is critically revised from the perspective of new and alternative means of payment thanks to the growth of e commerce and mobile commerce and new complementary currency projects The European Union is a feasible institutional context in which to investigate the development of the governance of money Indeed the EU considered as a unique economic and political partnership has not laid down a clear cut definition of money but the Member States have been carrying on a varying transfer of sovereignty and in particular of monetary sovereignty This book examines money as a means of payment and a reserve of value within the framework of the European Union with particular attention to community based currencies This book will prove an interesting and informative read for academics students and policymakers with an interest in the development of monetary and financial systems

Single Euro Payments Area ,2008 The Eurosystem continues to strongly support the creation of the Single Euro Payments Area SEPA in which individuals and corporations are able to make cashless payments throughout the euro area from a single payment account anywhere in the euro area using a single set of payment instruments as easily efficiently and safely as they can make them today at the national level SEPA is needed to move towards a more integrated payments market in Europe which will bring substantial economic benefits It is also a necessary step in the completion of the introduction of the euro as the single currency of 15 and soon with its adoption by Slovakia in January 2009 of 16 countries in Europe As such SEPA is not just a business project but is also closely linked to the political ambition to move towards a more integrated competitive and innovative Europe The project to design and set up SEPA is coordinated and promoted by the European Payments Council EPC the European banking industry s self regulatory body in the field of payment services In its role as a catalyst for change the Eurosystem is closely monitoring the developments towards SEPA With the introduction of the SEPA Credit Transfer SCT on 28 January 2008 the first benefits of SEPA have materialised for banks and more importantly have started to reach the end users of payment services Most Automated Clearing Houses ACHs that were processing credit transfers in euro have become SCT scheme compliant Also in January 2008 SEPA for Cards started for card payments but more effort is needed in this field to achieve the goals of the

SEPA project for example the emergence of at least one additional European card scheme Preparations for the third type of payment instrument SEPA Direct Debit SDD have continued over the past year resulting in the adoption of one rulebook for the Core service and another for the Business to Business service for the planned launch on 1 November 2009 Moreover the Payment Services Directive which is crucial in providing a sound legal basis across the EU for the processing of payments instruments and especially for direct debits was adopted in November 2007 Despite mostly positive developments since the publication of the 5th Progress Report in July 2007 the Eurosystem has observed that motivation for the project has been fading away among market participants and that the constructive spirit of the preparation phase has turned into a downbeat attitude Therefore the Eurosystem considers it helpful to issue a further progress report which focuses on those areas where work remains to be done by the market in order to overcome this weariness and to ensure the success of SEPA The addressees of the report are not only the banks and future payment institutions but all relevant stakeholders such as corporates public administrations merchants and consumers The goals of SEPA can only be fully achieved if all stakeholders combine their efforts
