Experimental Studies of Interactive Decisions Amnon Rapoport, 2012-12-06 This book is about the interplay of theory and experimentation on group decision making in economics The theories that the book subjects to experimental testing mostly come from the theory of games The decisions investigated in the book mostly concern economic interaction like strict competition two person bargaining and coalition formation The underlying philosophy of the articles collected in this book is consistent with the opinion of a growing number of economists and psychologists that economic issues cannot be understood fully just by thinking about them Rather the interplay between theory and experimentation is critical for the development of economics as an observational science Smith 1989 Reports of laboratory experiments in decision making and economics date back more than thirty years e g Allais 1953 Davidson Suppes and Siegel 1957 Flood 1958 Friedman 1953 Kalisch Milnor Nash and Nering 1954 Lieberman 1950 Mosteller and Nogee 1951 Rapoport Chammah Dwyer and Gyr 1952 Siegel and Fouraker 1950 Stone 1958 However only in the last ten or fifteen years has laboratory experimentation in economics started its steady transformation from an occasional curiosity into a regular means for investigating various economic phenomena and examining the role of economic institutions Groups of researchers in the USA and abroad have used experimental methods with increasing sophistication to attack economic problems that arise in individual decision making under risk two person bargaining

Council of Ministers Philippa Sherrington,2000-03-01 Based on detailed interviews she conducted with key EU officials and national ministers and her observations at council sessions Philippa Sherrington provides a much needed analysis of the most crucial of European Union institutions and makes an original contribution to the debate on power and legitimacy in the EU She presents a detailed account of the way in which business is really conducted in this most secret of institutions demonstrating that the Council of Ministers remains the ultimate decision maker in the EU She draws on both policy analysis and negotiation theory to make her argument Experiment Station Record United States. Game Theory as a Theory of Conflict Resolution Anatol Rapoport,1974-05-31 Game theory could be formally defined as a theory of rational decision in conflict situations Models of such situations as they are conceived in game theory involve 1 a set of decision makers called players 2 a set of strategies available to each player 3 a set of outcomes each of which is a result of particular choices of strategies made by the players on a given play of the game and 4 a set of payoffs accorded to each player in each of the possible outcomes It is assumed that each player is individually rational in the sense that his preference ordering of the outcomes is determined by the order of magnitudes of his and only his associated payoffs Further a player is rational in the sense that he assumes that every other player is rational in the above sense The rational player utilizes knowledge of the other players payoffs in guiding his choice of strategy because it gives him information about how the other players choices are guided Since in general the orders of magnitude of the payoffs that accrue to the several players in the several outcomes do not coincide a game of strategy is a model of a situation involving conflicts of interests Journal of Farm Economics ,1925 Includes papers and reports of the American Farm Economic Association
