Bernard Werber English Pdf:

Two Mediterranean Worlds Yassine Essid, William D. Coleman, 2012-04-01 Globalization includes complex processes easy to identify but difficult to explain Why for instance are globalizing processes so unevenly distributed between poor and wealthy countries What effect does this uneven distribution have on the everyday lives of ordinary people The contributors to this volume find answers to these questions in the Mediterranean a region divided between the people of the north shore who are engaged with Europe and modernized and their poorer neighbours to the south who struggle daily to attain the same standards of living and modes of governance as their more Westernized neighbours In these two regions divergent histories economies cultural and linguistic backgrounds education systems and political structures lead to explanations not only for uneven globalization but also for the wave of demonstrations for political and cultural autonomy that sparked the Arab Spring in North Africa and the Near East

Improving Food Safety Through a One Health Approach Institute of Medicine, Board on Global Health, Forum on Microbial Threats, 2012-10-10 Globalization of the food supply has created conditions favorable for the emergence reemergence and spread of food borne pathogens compounding the challenge of anticipating detecting and effectively responding to food borne threats to health In the United States food borne agents affect 1 out of 6 individuals and cause approximately 48 million illnesses 128 000 hospitalizations and 3 000 deaths each year This figure likely represents just the tip of the iceberg because it fails to account for the broad array of food borne illnesses or for their wide ranging repercussions for consumers government and the food industry both domestically and internationally A One Health approach to food safety may hold the promise of harnessing and integrating the expertise and resources from across the spectrum of multiple health domains including the human and veterinary medical and plant pathology communities with those of the wildlife and aquatic health and ecology communities The IOM's Forum on Microbial Threats hosted a public workshop on December 13 and 14 2011 that examined issues critical to the protection of the nation's food supply The workshop explored existing knowledge and unanswered questions on the nature and extent of food borne threats to health Participants discussed the globalization of the U S food supply and the burden of illness associated with foodborne threats to health considered the spectrum of food borne threats as well as illustrative case studies reviewed existing research policies and practices to prevent and mitigate foodborne threats and identified opportunities to reduce future threats to the nation's food supply through the use of a One Health approach to food safety

Improving Food Safety Through a One Health Approach Workshop Summary covers the events of the workshop and explains the recommendations for future related workshops
