1936 Rich Hughes, 2011-11. 1936 was the most significant year in basketball's first half century. For the first time Olympic basketball ended with a gold medal game. Dr James Naismith was honored at the Berlin Olympics for his wonderful invention as basketball achieved widespread international acceptance in a short period of time. 45 years after creating an exciting indoor sport for a physical education class, Naismith watched 23 countries vie for the gold. Boycotts protested Hitler's policies within the Olympic host country of Germany and as a result politics and sports were forever linked. Other meaningful firsts for the 1935-36 playing season included controversy in the US Olympic Tryout system, a problematic lack of funding for US Olympians and the actualization of new basketball strategies. Fast-breaking offenses, dunking the ball and full-court zone pressure were important new techniques that radically changed the game. This book tells the little-known story of the 1936 team which transformed basketball. The book documents the McPherson Refiners' significant role in developing basketball's
