Developing Early Literacy:

Developing Early Literacy Christopher J. Lonigan, Timothy Shanahan, 2008 The National Assessment of Educational Progress reveals that 37 percent of U S fourth graders fail to achieve basic levels of reading achievement In 1997 the U S Congress asked that a review of research be conducted to determine what could be done to improve reading and writing achievement The resulting Report of the National Reading Panel Teaching Children to Read NICHD 2000 has been influential in helping to guide reading education policy and practice in the United States However that report did not examine the implications of instructional practices used with children from birth through age 5 To address this gap in the knowledge base the National Early Literacy Panel NELP was convened The panel was asked to apply a similar methodological review process to that used by the National Reading Panel NRP to issues of instructional practices for young children so that parents and teachers could better support their emerging literacy skills The NELP report represents a systematic and extensive synthesis of the published research literature concerning children s early literacy skills It provides educators and policymakers with important information about the early skills that are implicated in later literacy learning as well as information about the type of instruction that can enhance these skills The results also identify areas in which additional research is needed The meta analyses conducted by the panel showed that a wide range of interventions had a positive impact on children s early literacy learning

Developing Early Literacy Timothy Shanahan, 2012-11-12 The National Early Literacy Panel set out to establish which early skills or abilities could properly be said to be the precursors of later literacy achievement To identify these skills the panel searched for published scientific studies that could provide correlational evidence showing the relationship between early skill attainment and later literacy growth in decoding reading comprehension or spelling Content of this report Introduction Methodology of the National Early Literacy Panel Identification of Children s Skills and Abilities Linked to Later Outcomes in Reading Writing and Spelling Impact on Young Children s Early Literacy Skills of Code Focused Interventions Shared Reading Interventions Parent and Home Programs Preschool and Kindergarten Programs and Language Enhancement Interventions This is a print on demand report

Developing Early Literacy Christopher J. Developing Early Literacy Skills Katharine Bodle,2017 Developing Early Literacy The National for Literacy,2013-01-30 The ability to read and write is fundamental to full participation in American society Our nation of farmers and mechanics has been transformed into one in which economic civic and social success depend on educational attainment for all particularly in literacy The rapid influx of technology into our daily lives and the internationalization of the economic marketplace have raised the demand for a literate citizenry to the highest levels ever Many Americans cannot read well enough to take full advantage of the benefits of society or to contribute fully to its sustenance Those who are low in literacy are paid less are more often out of work are less likely to vote are less informed about civic affairs are less able to meet the health care needs of their families and are more likely to have trouble with the law or to become ensnared in other socially harmful activities Literacy is implicated in virtually every sphere of our daily lives no matter how mundane or profound from following a prescription to taking part in a religious service from sending an email to buying something over the Internet from reading a sign for directions to reading a book to one s children This report represents a systematic and extensive synthesis of the published research literature concerning children s early literacy skills It provides educators and policymakers with important information about the early skills that are implicated in later literacy learning as well as information about the type of instruction that can enhance these skills The results also identify areas in which additional research is needed The meta analyses conducted by the authors showed that a wide range of interventions had a positive impact on children s early literacy learning However these positive results were due to the nature and intensity of the instructional activities examined in the studies There is now a clear need for translational research Researchers or their agents delivered many of the interventions examinations of more typical implementations of such programs within early childhood education are needed. Many of the high impact instructional strategies involved activities and procedures different from those typically seen in early childhood classrooms. These interventions were usually delivered as one on one or small group activities; they occurred frequently and they were adult directed. Few interpretable studies evaluated the effects of merely providing a literacy rich or language rich classroom environment. Developing Early Literacy Susan Hill, 2006. Focuses on the development of reading, writing, speaking, and listening for children from birth to eight years. Literacy Development in Early Childhood Beverly Otto, 2008. Literacy Development in Early Childhood: Reflective Teaching for Birth to Age Eight offers a comprehensive look at literacy development from infancy and through the primary grades. Organized developmentally, chapters on the signs of early literacy behaviors are followed by chapters on enhancing those behaviors. Assessment topics including observation forms for classroom use and developmentally appropriate strategies are integrated throughout. The role of oral language as a foundation for literacy, home school connections, and cultural influences on literacy development are also emphasized. This text will help teachers serve as thoughtful mediators in children's transactions with literacy. Provides Teachers with Tools for Reflective Literacy Instruction. The text's organization and narrative encourages preservice teachers to become reflective decision makers who select and implement instructional strategies based upon their knowledge of individual children's emergent literacy behaviors and needs. Explores Literacy Strategies Through Classroom and Home Based Examples and Vignettes. Numerous vignettes and teacher-child interactions throughout the text demonstrate literacy scaffolding in an applied and authentic manner. Supports Teachers in Multicultural and Urban Settings. An emphasis on linguistic and cultural diversity is woven throughout, including an array of strategies for English Language Learners to provide today's teachers with the knowledge to help all children succeed.
