Information Technology Based Methods for Health Behaviours Stephanie Champion, Carly Moores, Rebecca Golley, 2020-03-12 Understanding and modifying health behaviors plays an important part in healthcare The need to change behaviors applies across a range of health contexts from individual interventions to the clinically delivered management of chronic diseases and rehabilitation Telehealth or virtual care technology offers many possible advantages here including cost efficiency scalability personalization and automated high volume data collection and analysis but success will depend on the effectiveness of the design implementation and deployment of IT based methods This book which forms part of the Global Telehealth series includes papers presented at Global Telehealth 2019 GT2019 a National Symposium on the topic of IT based Methods for Health Behaviours held in Adelaide Australia on 5 July 2019 The 10 papers selected for inclusion here comprise only full paper blind peer reviewed contributions received for the symposium and the subsequent call for further contributions Topics range from the scientific theory of health behavior change through technological approaches to active ageing and the implementation of the 10 000 steps project to a discussion of digital infrastructure for the storing sharing of internet of things wearables and app based research study data The book will be of interest to all researchers managers and healthcare practitioners working to bring about positive changes in health behavior Technology Review, 2005 Living

Green Kathlyn Gay, 2012-03-29 What does living green mean For some it means making a commitment to reduce reuse and recycle every day For others it also means respecting and conserving our natural resources so they will be available in the future In Living Green The Ultimate Teen Guide readers learn why protecting the environment is such a crucial undertaking and why and how young adults should take up this important cause Living Green demonstrates how reckless indifference to our planet s needs jeopardizes not only plants and animals but the existence of mankind This volume addresses such concerns as leaving a low carbon footprint protecting wildlife saving natural resources conserving trees and gardens and fighting for environmental justice Most importantly Living Green explores the many ways that teens can make a difference in their homes communities and in the world at large While some of the teen efforts described here may be familiar the author also focuses on issues seldom addressed such as dumping toxic waste on poor and powerless communities The book includes quotes from green advocates and teens who consider themselves eco friendly as well as useful advice that will help young adults embrace a lifestyle that will positively affect generations to come Trends in Neuroergonomics: A Comprehensive Overview Klaus Gramann, Stephen H. Fairclough, Thorsten O. Zander, Hasan Ayaz, 2017-07-04 This Research Topic is dedicated to Raja Parasuraman who unexpectedly passed on March 22nd 2015 Raja Parasuraman s pioneering work led the emergence of Neuroergonomics as a new scientific field He combined his research interests in the field of Neuroergonomics which he defined as the study of the human brain in relation to performance at work and everyday settings Raja Parasuraman was a pioneer a truly exceptional researcher and an extraordinary person He made significant contributions to a number of disciplines from human factors to cognitive neuroscience His advice to young researchers was to be passionate in order to develop theory and knowledge that can guide the design of technologies and environments for people His legacy the field of Neuroergonomics will live on in countless faculties and students whom he advised and inspired with unmatched humility throughout the whole of his distinguished career Raja Parasuraman was an impressive human being a very kind person and an absolutely inspiring individual who will be remembered by everyone who had the chance to meet him About this Research Topic Since the advent of neuroergonomics significant progress has been made with respect to methodology and tools for the investigation of the brain and behavior at work This is especially the case for neuroscientific methods where the availability of ambulatory hardware wearable sensors and advanced data analyses allow for imaging of brain dynamics in humans in applied environments Methods such as electroencephalography EEG functional near infrared spectroscopy fNIRS and stimulation approaches like transcranial direct current stimulation tDCS have made significant progress in both recording and altering brain activity while allowing full body movements outside laboratory environments For neuroergonomics the application of brain imaging in real world scenarios is highly relevant Traditionally brain imaging experiments in human factors research tend to avoid active behavior for fear of artifacts and a contaminated data set that would provide limited insight into brain dynamics in real working environments To overcome these problems new analyses approaches have to be developed that identify artifacts resulting from hostile recording environments and movement related non brain activity stemming from eye head and full body movements The application of methodology from the field of Brain Computer Interfacing BCI for neuroergonomics is one approach that has significant potential to enhance ambulatory monitoring and applied testing Passive BCIs allow for assessing aspects of the user state online such that systems can automatically adapt to their user This neuroadaptive technology could lead to highly efficient working environments to auto adaptive experimental paradigms and to a continuous tracking of cognitive and affective aspects of the user state Hence deployment of portable neuroimaging technologies to real time settings could help assess cognitive and motivational states of personnel assigned to perform critical tasks This Research Topic gathers submissions that cover new approaches in neuroergonomics Different article type cover advanced neuroscience methods and neuroergonomics techniques as well as analysis approaches to investigate brain dynamics in working environments The selection of papers provides insights into new neuroergonomic research approaches that demonstrate significant advances in brain imaging technologies that become more and more mobile Moreover a strong trend for new analyses approaches and paradigms investigating real work settings can be seen Together this unique collection of latest research papers provides a comprehensive overview on the latest developments in neuroergonomics
