This book clarifies the debate about alliance burden sharing and the U S commitment to Europe by exploring the political economic and military implications of a hypothetical American withdrawal The contributors first examine the economic costs and benefits of U S installations in Europe as perceived in the U S as well as in the host nations They then analyze the different kinds of military gaps that a withdrawal would generate in the northern central and southern regions as well as the gaps in command control communications and intelligence capabilities Finally the essays examine the problems Western Europe would face in trying to cope with an American withdrawal and how the U S could fulfill its global commitments without its European bases   American Blacksmith and Motor Shop ,1914   The Wood-worker ,1923   American Gas Journal ,1928   The National Rural Letter Carrier ,2008   American Gas Engineering Journal ,1928   Industrial Engineering George Worthington,1913   Electrical Review and Western Electrician with which is Consolidated Electrocraft ,1913   New York Review of the Telegraph and Telephone and Electrical Journal ,1913
