Civic Education Syllabus:

Syllabus of Course Fundamentals of Adult Civic Education Mary Louise Guyton, Massachusetts. Department of Education, 19??

Civic Education in Syllabus 21 Marc Rüdüsüli, 2017 In order to ensure a well functioning democracy it is necessary that citizens are able to participate properly in the political process This is of particular importance in a semi direct democracy with the right of initiative and referendum Both in politics and in a society there is a diversity of opinions and interests In order to find a solution the ability to negotiate is essential Civic education aims to give an introduction to the processes of negotiation and thus empower citizens to engage competently in democratic communities and societies However civic education is neglected in schools The harmonisation of the curricula in German speaking Switzerland has led to Syllabus 21 which also deals with civic education Its implementation in Syllabus 21 is the main topic of this paper The theoretical background allows the reader to understand the term civic education as well as Syllabus 21 With the help of experts the implementation of civic education is analysed problems are identified and a conclusion is drawn This paper aims to provide an overview of civic education in Syllabus 21

Civic Education Richard G. Niemi, Jane Junn, 2005-05-11 Sound democratic decisions rely on a citizenry with at least a partial mastery of the rules and workings of democratic government American high schools where students learn the basics of citizenship thus ought to play a critical role in the success of democracy Yet studies examining the impact of high school government and civics courses on political knowledge over the past quarter century have generally shown that these courses have little or no effect In this important book Richard G Niemi and Jane Junn take a fresh look at what American high school seniors know about government and politics and how they learn it The authors argue convincingly that secondary school civics courses do indeed enhance students civic knowledge This book is based on the most extensive assessment to date of civic knowledge among American youth the 1988 National Assessment of Education Progress NAEP Civics Assessment The authors develop and test a theoretical model to explain the cognitive process by which students learn about politics and they conclude by suggesting specific changes in the style and emphasis of civics teaching

Civic Education in the Asia-Pacific Region John L. Cogan, Murray Print, 2013-12-02 This book examines the approach to civic education in six societies located on the Pacific Rim Australia Japan Hong Kong Taiwan Thailand and the US In these scrupulously designed studies the contributors investigate the recent re emergence of civic education in this region Developments such as globalization nationalism and sovereignty have profound effects on how schools make good citizens These essays reveal how definitions of citizenship are contested and revised under such influences and interrogate differences in civic education from nation to nation As societies attempt to strike a balance between obedience and critical thinking schools become the primary site of these transformations Analyzing both educational policy and its implementation these contributors offer a groundbreaking comparative study that grounds civic education historically and politically

Objectives and Procedures in Civic Education Charles Clinton Peters, 1930 The Junior Certificate Ireland.

Thompson, 1922 (Re)Constructing Memory: School Textbooks and the Imagination of the Nation James H.

Williams, 2014-08-08 This book examines the shifting portrayal of the nation in school textbooks in 14 countries during periods of rapid political social and economic change Drawing on a range of analytic strategies the authors examine history and civics textbooks and the teaching of such texts along with other prominent curricular materials children s readers a required text penned by the head of state a holocaust curriculum etc The authors analyze the uses of history and pedagogy in building reinforcing and or redefining the nation and state especially in the light of challenges to its legitimacy The primary focus is on countries in developing or transitional contexts Issues include the teaching of democratic civics in a multiethnic state with little history of democratic governance shifts in teaching about the Khmer Rouge in post conflict Cambodia children s readers used to define national space in former republics of the Soviet Union the development of Holocaust education in a context where citizens were both victims and perpetrators of violence the creation of a national past in Turkmenistan and so forth The case studies are supplemented by commentary an introduction and conclusion

Citizenship Curriculum in Asia and the Pacific David L. Grossman, Wing On Lee, Kerry J. Kennedy, 2008-08-31 Based on case studies of 11 societies in the world s most dynamic region this book signals a new direction of study at the intersection of citizenship education and the curriculum Following their successful volume Citizenship Education in Asia and the Pacific Concepts and Issues published as No 14 in this series the editors widely regarded as leaders in the field in the Asia Pacific region have gone beyond broad citizenship education frameworks to examine the realities tensions and pressures that influence the formation of the citizenship curriculum Chapter authors from different societies have addressed two fundamental questions 1 how is citizenship education featured in the current curriculum reform agenda in terms of both policy contexts and values and 2 to what extent do the reforms in citizenship education reflect current debates within the society From comparative analysis of these 11 case studies the editors have found a complex picture of curriculum reform that indicates deep tensions between global and local agendas On one hand there is substantial evidence of an increasingly common policy rhetoric in the debates about citizenship education On the other it is evident that this discourse does not necessarily extend to citizenship curriculum which in most places continues to be constructed according to distinctive social political and cultural contexts Whether the focus is on Islamic values in Pakistan an emerging discourse about Chinese democracy a nostalgic conservatism in Australia or a continuing nation building project in Malaysia the cases show that distinctive social values and ideologies construct national citizenship curricula in Asian contexts even in this increasingly globalized era This impressive collection of case studies of a diverse group of societies informs and enriches understanding of
