EXCERPT FROM THE BOOK You've probably figured out a few mistakes to avoid already but you'd probably be surprised at what many employers are turned off by when reading cover letters Lack of proofreading This is a no brainer but many people often miss them or don't bother to spell check before sending out the cover letter and resume It's always a good idea to ask a friend or family member to check your letter for spelling errors and typos to give you a fresh perspective Not including the name of the hiring manager If you don't know who is going to read your cover letter and resume try to find out When in doubt call the company and ask who the person in charge of that department is so you can target your letter appropriately Not writing to an audience Focus each letter on each employer According to Career Builder 44 percent of executives polled said it's common for applicants to use their cover letters to show they've learned more about the job Doing so can give you an edge against the competition Failing to sell yourself If you undersell your skills and qualifications you won't make an impression on the reader Don't just talk about your accomplishments give concrete examples Regurgitating the resume Cover letters weren't meant as a tool to repeat everything that's in your resume It's a tool to build on it and an opportunity to correlate your experience with the job you're applying for Include any training classes awards and recognition you've received in the past that might give you an edge over the competition Buy a copy to keep reading Step-by-step Cover Letters, 2006 Cover Letters that Blow Doors Open Anne McKinney, 1999 Designed as the comprehensive guide to cover letter preparation the 272 page book shows examples of exciting and door opening cover letters The main section of the book shows cover letters by field and industry For example job hunters in the accounting field will find examples of cover letters used to blow doors open in the accounting banking and financial community From aviation to computer operations to management to sales to transportation cover letters tailored to specific fields are illustrated which can be used as models or templates for those involved in a job hunt But what if a job hunter is changing careers or doesn't need a cover letter targeting a specific field or functional area There's a section showing examples of all purpose cover letters career change cover letters cover letters for entrepreneurs and cover letters for those seeking their first job For those seeking advice on how to respond to ads how to handle questions about salary requirements how to request consideration for multiple job openings in the organization and how to write letters for special situations there's a section entitled Sixteen Commonly Asked Questions About Cover Letters and Job Hunting Cover Letters In A Week Pat Scudamore, Hilton Catt, 2013-03-29 Sunday Understand the importance of first impressions and the common mistakes people make Monday Ensure your application is taken seriously with a cover letter that is concise complements your CV and is targeted to the job you have applied for Tuesday Discover how to style and structure your cover letter with advice on forms of address etiquette fonts margins and the importance of white space Wednesday Design your cover letter to engage your audience and overcome the competition for advertised jobs Thursday Design a speculative cover letter to approach the invisible job market Friday Learn how to address cover letters to agencies and recruitment consultants Saturday Learn from your applications whether successful or not and develop your writing style for the future Cover Letter Magic Wendy S.
