A First Dictionary and Grammar of Láadan Suzette Haden Elgin, Diane Martin, 1988 A Third Dictionary & Grammar of Láadan Suzette Haden Elgin, Jeanne Gomoll, Diane Martin, 2019-08-09 This book includes material from 1st Dictionary and Grammar 1988 and merges it with new vocabulary created for the Láadan website Elgin died in 2015 but interest persists in the language she created in 1982 embodied in her SF Native Tongue series Láadan is a feminist constructed language created by Elgin to test the Sapir-Whorf hypothesis that the language one speaks influences the way one thinks i.e. can a language expressing the views of women shape a culture Láadan includes morphemes that require speakers to own their own perceptions words that indicate for instance whether a statement comes from personal observation a trusted source or an unreliable third party Nowadays Elgin might argue that accusations of fake news would be impossible in Láadan This language also encodes speakers intentions into their sentences eliminating another form of micro aggression the rude comment that is passed off as just a joke All proceeds will go to the Science Fiction Poetry Association A First Dictionary and Grammar of Láadan Suzette Haden Elgin, 1985 A Third Dictionary & Grammar of Láadan Suzette Haden Elgin, 2020 Hildegard of Bingen's Unknown Language S. Higley, 2007-12-09 The Lingua Ignota brought forth by the twelfth century German nun Hildegard of Bingen provides 1012 neologisms for praise of Church and new expression of the things of her world Noting her visionary metaphors her music and various medieval linguistic philosophies Higley examines how the Unknown Language makes arid signifiers green again This text however is too often seen in too narrow a context glossolalia angelic language secret code Higley provides an edition and English translation of its glosses in the Riesencodex with assistance from the Berlin MS but also places it within a history of imaginary language making from medieval times to the most contemporary projects in efforts to uncover this woman's bold involvement in an intellectual and creative endeavor that spans centuries The Cambridge History of the English Language Richard M. Hogg, Norman Francis Blake, Suzanne Romaine, Roger Lass, R. W. Burchfield, 1992 The volumes of The Cambridge History of the English Language reflect the spread of English from its beginnings in Anglo-Saxon England to its current role as a multifaceted global language that dominates international communication in the 21st century Fictional Languages in Science Fiction Literature Israel A. C. Noletto, 2024-05-31 Fictional Languages in Science Fiction Literature surveys a large number of fictional languages those created as part of a literary world to present a multifaceted account of the literary phenomenon of glossopoesis language invention Consisting of a few untranslated sentences exotic names or even fully fledged languages with detailed grammar and vocabulary fictional languages have been a common element of English language fiction since Thomas More's Utopia 1516 Different notions of the functions of such fictional languages in narrative have been proposed as rooted in phonaesthetics and contextual features or as being used for characterisation and construction of alterity Framed within stylistics and informed by narrative theory literary theory literary pragmatics and semiotics this study combines

previous typologies into a new 5 part reading model comprising unique analytical approaches tailored to science fiction's specific discourse and style exploring the relationship between glossopoesis world building storytelling interpretation and rhetoric both in prose and paratexts

Women of Color and the Multicultural Curriculum Liza Fiol-Matta, Mariam Chamberlain, 1994 A A A The product of 13 curriculum projects that involved several hundred educators nationwide this volume provides faculty and administrators with a guide to multicultural curricular change especially with respect to women While women represent over half of the college students on campus they are still represented only minimally in the allegedly mainstream curriculum Women of color are far less visible in the curriculum than white women A A A Both the process and the results of a Ford Foundation funded project are presented here in a format that allows browsing and promotes reading straight through The volume is divided into three major sections the first of which highlights the actual process of faculty transformation and administrative support essential to curricular changes as it occurred on two of the participating campuses U C L A and George Washington University Extensive multidisciplinary faculty development syllabi are provided A A A Section Two contains 37 transformed undergraduate course syllabi for courses in sociology American history and literature and more with brief essays describing professors' encounters with teaching the new texts Section Three is an invaluable interdisciplinary guide to teaching about Puerto Rican women prepared by a team of scholars at SUNY Albany It provided information about Puerto Rican women inside and outside Puerto Rico as well as teaching strategies for integrating such information into the traditional curriculum A A A This volume shows that essential educational change to meet the diversity of U S students may be somewhat slower than one would wish and more difficult but it is complex challenging and intellectually exciting
