Publisher's Monthly, 2002 Rangelands: A Resource Under Siege P. J. Joss, P. W. Lynch, O. B. Williams, 1986 This volume comprises the proceedings of the Second International Rangelands Congress held in Adelaide, Australia, in May 1984 and includes some 350 contributions drawn from 43 different countries. The Congress addressed the problem of the conflict between land users and the degradation of this valuable resource. Some 40% of the Earth's land surface is arid or semi-arid and therefore unsuitable for agricultural cultivation. Collectively, these lands are known as rangelands, and in their natural state they constitute a habitat for grazing animals, both domestic and wild. Despite their low productivity, rangelands have been used for thousands of years as a source of food and fibre, but other uses such as mining, tourism, recreation, and conservation are exerting increasing demands. The result is often conflict between land users and degradation of the resource.

Transactions on Engineering Technologies Sio-Iong Ao, Haeng Kon Kim, Mahyar A. Amouzegar, 2018-10-24 This volume contains a selection of revised and extended research articles written by prominent researchers participating in a large international conference on Advances in Engineering Technologies and Physical Science which was held in San Francisco, California, USA, October 25-27, 2017. Topics covered include engineering, mathematics, electrical engineering, communications, systems, computer science, chemical engineering, systems engineering, manufacturing engineering, and industrial applications. With contributions carefully chosen to represent the most cutting-edge research presented during the conference, the book contains some of the state-of-the-art in engineering technologies and the physical sciences and their applications and serves

Stancu-Minasian,2012-12-06 Mathematical programming has know a spectacular diversification in the last few decades This process has happened both at the level of mathematical research and at the level of the applications generated by the solution methods that were created To write a monograph dedicated to a certain domain of mathematical programming is under such circumstances especially difficult In the present monograph we opt for the domain of fractional programming Interest of this subject was generated by the fact that various optimization problems from engineering and economics consider the minimization of a ratio between physical and or economical functions for example cost time cost volume cost profit or other quantities that measure the efficiency of a system For example the productivity of industrial systems defined as the ratio between the realized services in a system within a given period of time and the utilized resources is used as one of the best indicators of the quality of their operation Such problems where the objective function appears as a ratio of functions constitute fractional programming problem Due to its importance in modeling various decision processes in management science operational research and economics and also due to its frequent appearance in other problems that are not necessarily economical such as information theory numerical analysis stochastic programming decomposition algorithms for large linear systems etc the fractional programming method has received particular attention in the last three decades Pacific Journal of Mathematics ,1974 Indian Railways ,1975 Ranganathan Series in Library Science ,1968 Calcutta Municipal Gazette ,1937 Demonstratio mathematica ,1985 Seminar Reporteur ,1971 Research Projects, 1969-76 Indian Council of Social Science Research,1976
