Topics in Public Economics David Pines, Efraim Sadka, Itzhak Zilcha, 1998 The evolving modern world is characterized by two opposing trends integration and segregation On the one hand we witness strong forces for segregation on the basis of nationality ethnicity religion and culture in the former Soviet Union the former Czechoslovakia the former Yugoslavia as well as in Northern Ireland Spain and Canada These forces are quite strong and in some cases violent On the other hand the European Union and NAFTA represent the tendency for integration motivated primarily by economic considerations such as gains from trade and scale economies In fact these opposing trends can be explained by the concepts developed in modern club theory local public finance and international trade
