

Standard Method of Preparing Coal Samples for Analysis<sup>1</sup>

This standard is issued under the fixed designation D 2013; the number immediately following the designation indicates the year of original adoption or, in the case of revision, the year of last revision. A number in parentheses indicates the year of last approval. A superscript epsilon ( $\epsilon$ ) indicates an editorial change since the last revision or approval.

1. Scope

1.1 This method<sup>2</sup> covers the reduction and division of gross or divided samples, collected in accordance with Test Methods D 2234, up to and including the individual portions for laboratory analysis.

1.2 Reduction and division procedures are prescribed for coals of the following groups:

1.2.1 Group A includes coals that have been cleaned in all sizes.

1.2.2 Group B includes all other coals. Unknown coals are to be considered under Group B.

1.2.3 Group A allows smaller weights of laboratory samples to be retained than Group B. These lower weights may be used for particular coals if they have been shown by using the procedure of Annex A1.2 to give a sample preparation and analysis variance which is no more than 20 % of the total allowable variance.

1.3 Two methods are given for preparing the analysis sample for making the moisture determinations:

1.3.1 Referee Method—This method shall be used where the possibility of unaccounted changes in moisture content during the reduction and division of the gross or divided sample must be held to a minimum. It is intended to be used for evaluation of nonreferee methods and for testing of equipment. Only under certain conditions will this referee method be directly applicable to routine test programs.

1.3.2 Nonreferee Method—This method may be used for routine work.

1.4 This standard does not purport to address all of the safety concerns, if any, associated with its use. It is the responsibility of the user of this standard to establish appropriate safety and health practices and determine the applicability of regulatory limitations prior to use.
