From William Dickson's Rip Van Winkle films (1896) to Baz Luhrmann's big budget production of The Great Gatsby (2013) and beyond, cinematic adaptations of American literature participate in a rich and fascinating history. Unlike previous studies of American literature and film which emphasize particular authors like Edith Wharton and Nathaniel Hawthorne, particular texts like Moby Dick, particular literary periods like the American Renaissance, or particular genres like the novel, this volume considers the multiple functions of filmed American literature as a cinematic genre in its own right, one that reflects the specific political and aesthetic priorities of different national and historical cinemas, even as it plays a decisive role in defining American literature for a global audience.
