Several states have increased spending dramatically over the United States. Explain the impact of this sudden increase in government spending on each of the following markets. List the market.

- i. Aggregate Demand
- ii. Output
- iii. Real interest
- iv. The Production/Investment Curve
- v. Long-run Aggregate Supply

Your Answer:

1. Since government spending is rising the composition of output will affect the output demand positively. Aggregate demand will rise.

ii. In the aggregate demand curve, the output will rise so that the real interest rate will rise and the price level will rise over time.
