The Impact of Higher Education Ranking Systems on Universities Kevin Downing, Petrus Johannes Loock, Sarah Gravett, 2021-04-05 This book written by three generations of rankings academics with considerable experience from three very different regions of the globe lifts the lid on the real impact of higher education ranking systems HERS on universities and their stakeholders It critically analyses the criteria that make up the Big Three global ranking systems and using interviews with senior administrators academics and managers discusses their impact on universities from four very different continents Higher education continues to be dominated by a reputational hierarchy of institutions that sustains and is reinforced by HERS Despite all the opinions and arguments about the legitimacy of the rankings as a construct it seems experts agree that they are here to stay The question therefore seems to be less about whether or not universities should be compared and ranked but the manner in which this is undertaken Delivering a fresh perspective on global rankings this book summarizes the development of HERS and provides a critical evaluation of the effects of HERS on four different major regions South Africa the Arab region South East Asia and Australia It will appeal to any academic student university administrator or governing body interested in or affected by global higher education ranking systems

Reglobalization Matthew Louis Bishop, Anthony Payne, 2021-03-11 This book charts the way towards a better repurposed globalization which it calls reglobalization and shows how this can be built incrementally but realistically via reforms to the partial and fragile existing structures of global governance In making this argument the book firmly rejects the new fashion for a politics of deglobalization which has appeared of late in both left wing and right wing variants Instead it suggests that a reformed Group of 20 G20 for all its current inadequacies can still provide the critical coordinating function that the management of a process of reglobalization requires The book argues that globalization is too important to be lost rather it needs to be saved from its capture by neoliberalism and rebuilt around different values for a post neoliberal era The emergence of global pandemic as an issue only goes to emphasise the necessity importance and urgency of the reglobalization project Reglobalization is essential reading for everybody living in the era of globalization which is all of us and worried about its many economic social and political problems which is a growing number of us The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal Globalizations Global Learning and International Development in the Age of Neoliberalism Stephen McCloskey,2021-10-13 This book argues that the international development sector is in crisis which can be mostly sourced to its side stepping the dominant development question of our age the neoliberal growth paradigm It argues that this crisis can be addressed at least in part by the sector s re engagement with the radical development education process that it helped to foster and sustain for over two decades The recent safeguarding scandal is symptomatic of a sector that is becoming overly hierarchical brand conscious and disconnected from its base This book argues that many of the problems the sector is facing can be sourced to its failings in grappling with the question of neoliberalism and formulating a coherent critique of how market orthodoxy has accelerated poverty in the global North and South This book recommends re embracing the radical origins of global learning situated in the participative methodology and praxis reflection and action of Paulo Freire both as internal capacity building and external public engagement The book proposes a new development paradigm focusing on bottomup participative approaches to policy making based on the needs of those NGOs claim to represent the poor marginalised and voiceless rather than constantly following the agenda of donors and governments The recommendations made by this book will serve as an important resource for researchers and students of international development and global learning as well as to NGOs civil society activists and education practitioners looking for solutions to the problems within the sector Global Business Mahesh Joshi,James R. Klein,2018-08-02 In the wake of the Brexit vote and the election of Donald Trump globalization has found itself increasingly under the microscope An active international discussion is underway and the ideological viewpoint that the reversal of globalization and a return to protectionism and isolation will cure the world s ills is touted by many In the midst of the growing prominence of international interconnectivity and contradicting attention attained by skewed misinformation about global impact Global Business is a straightforward commentary on mega trends in globalization With insights and observations from academics practitioners and practical thinkers from around the world Global Business demystifies the economic social and cultural impacts of globalism and globalization and presents a balanced explanation of what is happening and how it affects everyone It highlights that technology and change are not new and explores the path taken to reach our current interconnected global state It encourages a realistic examination of where we are and invites a dialogue on where we can go together Research Handbook on Methods and Models of Competition Law Deborah Healey, Michael Jacobs, Rhonda L. Smith, 2020-11-27 This comprehensive Handbook illuminates the objectives and economics behind competition law. It takes a global comparative approach to explore competition law and policy in a range of jurisdictions with differing political economies, legal systems, and stages of development. A set of expert international contributors examine the operation and enforcement of competition law around the world in order to globalize discussions surrounding the foundational issues of this topic. In doing so, they not only reveal the range of approaches to competition law but also identify certain basic economic concepts and types of anticompetitive conduct that are at the core of competition law. Assessing Regional Integration in Africa VIII United Nations Publications, 2017 The establishment of the Continental Free Trade Area (CFTA) is a major milestone in the long march of African integration. As foreseen in the Treaty Establishing the African Economic Community (commonly known as the Abuja Treaty) which entered into force in 1994, the integration process is to culminate in the African Economic Community. A review of the current status of Africa's economic integration is the subject of Chapter 2. The CFTA aspires to liberalize trade between African countries across the continent and to build on the considerable successes already achieved within Africa's regional economic communities (RECs). By doing so, the CFTA is set to facilitate intra-African trade, foster regional value chains that can facilitate integration into the global economy, and energize industrialization, competitiveness, and innovation, and thereby contribute to African economic and social progress and development. Global Marketing Management Masaaki (Mike) Kotabe, Kristiaan Helsen, 2022-09-27 An indispensable resource for students of marketing management and international business. Rethinking International Strategy in Times of rising Uncertainty. The Internationalization of Tesla Inc. Moritz Henninger,2021-02-17 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2020 in the subject Business economics Business Management Corporate Governance grade 1 3 University of Stuttgart Institute for International and Strategic Management language English abstract This paper hopes to answer how increasing uncertainty is impacting International Management and how new and innovative companies like Tesla Inc conduct international expansion Economic activities in the 21st century are characterized by dynamic global competition the increasing interdependence and internationalization of economic relations and the resulting merging of world markets With the continuous expansion of world trade and investment with factors of production being highly mobile and with the sources of innovation becoming increasingly global an increasingly larger share of the global economy is reasonably accurately characterized as open it est as being exposed to the forces of global competition and to the international flows of capital technology and skilled labor Yet the belief in globalization and free trade seems to be in disarray since the shocks of Brexit and Trump in 2016 In various regions of the world a flare up of nationalism protectionism and trade barriers is creating a politically and economically volatile atmosphere While 2019 and 2020 brought new obstacles from customs tariffs to a global pandemic this has led to a shift in framework conditions rather than an end to international competition In addition a lot of companies across various business sectors are entangled in extensive and expensive investment or restructuring programs brought upon by the ever increasing pace of technological sociological and legal developments Still there is uncertainty if these investments will one day pay off or turn out to be a charge in the wrong direction Between 1970 and 2018 FDI grew from 14 2 billion to 1 43 trillion US dollars an increase of over 900 percent Based on this rapid development participation in international competition has become a matter of course if not a necessity for many companies and their attention is focused on efficient conduct and value adding administering of international activities This begs the question how internationally active companies with a global and decentralized value chain can fight rising uncertainty and react to constantly changing environments How can these companies not only hold on to existing business but expand their dominance in the market against the backdrop of uncertainty Are established strategy models such as Ghemawat s AAA model still applicable today do they need to be revised or is there even a need for completely new approaches

What cultural challenges relating to leadership do organisations face when doing business in foreign countries? Jann Guzikewitz,2017-08-31 Master s Thesis from the year 2017 in the subject Business economics Business Management Corporate Governance grade 1 7 Buckinghamshire New University language English abstract The aim of this study is to identify and evaluate the cultural challenges within organisational leadership imposed by their internationalisation activities This dissertation aims to create an understanding for the relevance of cultural differences within the internationalisation process It does so by analysing the cultural differences between the German and Swedish construction supply industries The research question is what are the cultural challenges related to leadership that organisations face when doing business in foreign countries I discuss this question based on the analysis of the contemporary academic literature whereby Hofstede s cultural model is considered Semi structured expert interviews were used to analyse the current cultural situation in both industries as well as to evaluate the findings of the theory In conclusion the analysis of the German and Swedish construction supply industries showed a significant difference between the contemporary literature and the primary findings of this thesis Certain aspects of the cultural dimensions of both industries did not correspond to the literature s view of each country s culture Although both industries are similar they show differences which are recognised within the approach to leadership Cultural changes are recognised in both countries and industries as transformation in structure resources and expertise are being accelerated by the internet disruptive technologies tourism media and migration As technology and human migration progress further cultural research is necessary

Is Socialism Feasible? Geoffrey Martin Hodgson,2019 After being proclaimed dead there is now a major revival of socialist ideology in the West But what does socialism mean This book shows that it is irretrievably associated with common ownership The twentieth century experience of comprehensive national planning with state ownership has been disastrous and in no case has democracy endured within large scale socialism This volume explains why The alternative socialist option of worker owned cooperatives must accept a major role for markets that many socialists reject Featuring theoretical arguments and practical investigations Geoffrey M Hodgson interrogates the failures of socialist states scrutinizing the impact and outcomes of a centralized politico economic system This timely and convincing book offers insight into the twentieth century experience of comprehensive national planning deploying less well known criticisms from Albert Schaffle and Michael Polanyi Hodgson s nuanced approach brings together small scale socialist praxis and principles of liberal solidarity exploring an experimental approach to political and economic reform Provocative insightful and accessible this book is of considerable interest to any reader with an appetite for the history of socialist theory as well as those keen to explore new insights to heterodox economics Students and academics of the social sciences and humanities will benefit from this book s rigorous empirical approach to historic and contemporary socialist states and its in depth discussion of Austrian school theory

Мировая экономика и международные отношения ,2017 World Economy in 2017 IntroBooks,2018-02-22 The election of Donald Trump as the President of the United States took the world by surprise The Presidential win of Donald Trump will remain as one of the most dominant features of the economy of the world that happened in 2016 and will continue to embark itself in the global market for next series of years Until now the stocks of the United States are soaring and setting records The other global markets and economies are taking their lows in the economy to the rallies as the global investors have been selling bonds and buying stocks in their belief that the pro business administration of Donald Trump will help them in tax cuts stimulate the fiscal policy and the deregulation to inflame the inflation and economic growth in the largest economy of the World Such headwinds are expected to continue in 2017 at least not the ones which are highly elevated by means of political expectations which imply that this is the biggest risk in the world about facing stocks However this would also yield higher returns that will inhibit multiple expansion of the economy and the strengthening of the USD which would lay the importance on corporate earnings or guidance With the Presidential election of Donald Trump the world can expect more stock availability in the global market on an assumption that the President continues to use his Twitter account
