The Media Monopoly:

The Media Monopoly Ben H. Bagdikian, 1983 The New Media Monopoly Ben H. Bagdikian, 2004-05-15 When the first edition of The Media Monopoly was published in 1983 critics called Ben Bagdikian's warnings about the chilling effects of corporate ownership and mass advertising on the nation's news alarmist. Since then the number of corporations controlling most of America's daily newspapers, magazines, radio and television stations, book publishers and movie companies has dwindled from fifty to ten to five. The most respected critique of modern mass media ever issued is now published in a completely updated and revised twentieth anniversary edition. Ben Bagdikian has written the first great media book of the twenty-first century. The New Media Monopoly will provide a roadmap to understanding how we got here and where we need to go to make matters better. Robert McChesney, author of Rich Media Poor Democracy The New Media Monopoly Ben H. The Media and Modernity John B. Thompson, 1995 What role have communication media played in the formation of modern societies How should we understand the social impact of new forms of communication and information diffusion from the advent of printing in fifteenth century Europe to the expansion of global communication networks today In this major new work Thompson addresses these and other questions by elaborating a distinctive social theory of communication media and their impact He argues that the development of communication media has transformed the spatial and temporal constitution of social life creating new forms of action and interaction which are no longer linked to the sharing of a common locale The consequences of this transformation are far reaching and impinge on many aspects of our lives from the most intimate aspects of personal experience and self formation to the changing nature of power and visibility in the public domain Combining breadth of vision with sensitivity to detail this book situates the study of the media where it belongs among a set of disciplines concerned with the emergence development and structural characteristics of modern societies and their futures
