Rezaul, 2018-12-07 The importance of scientific investigation and research is becoming more pronounced in today's society with many organizations relying on this research to make informed decisions. As such, research methodology courses have been integrated into undergraduate and master's programs at most academic institutions where students are being challenged to conduct and write research. Social Research Methodology and New Techniques in Analysis, Interpretation and Writing is a pivotal reference source that provides vital research on the main concepts of research writing, including the guidelines of research methodology and proposal designing. While highlighting topics such as mixed method research, research objectives, and project proposals, this publication provides examples of eight PhD proposals and the frameworks used in organizing qualitative, quantitative, and mixed method research. This book is ideally designed for graduate level students, academicians, researchers, educators, scholars, education administrators, and policymakers seeking current research on the key steps and techniques used in organizing social research proposals.      Engaging Isolated Communities in Disaster Preparation and Communication in the Philippines Dennis John Sumaylo, 2023-09-04 This book provides an account of how local government units in the Philippines engage marginalized and geographically isolated communities in taking part in pre-disaster communication efforts. The book focuses on communities classified by the government as Geographically Isolated and Disadvantaged Areas (GIDA) on the culturally rich island of Mindanao, Philippines. The focus is centered on GIDA communities because they are assumed to receive less information and help in relation to their circumstances. This book accounts for the disaster preparedness and communicative conditions of people living in GIDAs and identifies synergies and tensions in the engagement process. As such, specific branches of enquiry focus on how information seeking and sharing experiences of GIDA communities inform the current practice of community engagement. In taking this research approach, this book deliberately gives voice to these marginalized and often silenced communities. In general, the study examines other possibilities or variables in the pre-disaster risk communication process that truly engage geographically isolated and socioeconomically disadvantaged communities in disaster risk reduction and management (DRRM). Considering the existing methodologies used to engage local communities in DRRM, this book looks at ways in which bottom-up and top-down approaches could be melded together for a transformational level of engagement in these communities. The novelty of addressing issues concerning geographically isolated communities in a developing country is a research track worthy of being investigated by academics. The book is of interest to students and in development communication and disaster risk communication, as well as community engagement practitioners specializing in DRRM. The framework proposed in this book for engaging isolated communities is helpful to practitioners in designing, planning, and implementing pre-disaster communication and community engagement programs.      Handbook of Research on Individual Differences in Computer-Assisted Language Learning Rahimi, Mehrak, 2015-08-03 The latest advances and trends in technology have enabled rapid development in the field of language education. Students and teachers alike now benefit from the assistance of various technological innovations, thus increasing the overall effectiveness of the curriculum. The Handbook of Research on Individual Differences in Computer Assisted Language Learning addresses the implementation of current research methodologies within EFL and ESL classroom settings and the variety of modifications employed by language experts. Focusing on quantitative, qualitative, and mixed methods studies, this book is an essential reference source for applied linguists, CALL researchers, language teachers, and upper level students within the field of foreign language education.

Digital Togetherness in the Middle East and North Africa Chanmin Chung, 2025-02-07. In an era when digital relationships define social landscapes, Digital Togetherness in the Middle East and North Africa offers a unique exploration into how these technologies impact ministries with young adults in the regions. Authored by ChanMin Chung, this compelling work delves into the effective use of social media, instant messaging, and video communication platforms to forge meaningful relationships and promote spiritual dialogue. Focused on the Christian work in the MENA region, Chung's research provides practical digital strategies beyond conventional outreach, addressing the unique challenges gospel workers face in engaging a tech-savvy young adult population amid cultural and religious complexities. This book is an invaluable resource for Christian workers, leaders, and anyone interested in the powerful role of digital media in enhancing intercultural and interfaith interactions. Whether you are a practitioner on the ground or a strategist behind the scenes, these insights will equip you to build deeper, more resilient connections in your ministries. Join Chung on a journey of digital discovery and spiritual outreach that promises to transform your approach to ministries in the digital age.

Serving Vulnerable and Marginalized Populations in Social and Educational Contexts Anies Al-Hroub, Sally Reis, Joseph Madaus, Itab Shuayb, 2024-04-26. There is evidence that the global COVID-19 crisis is exacerbating existing inequalities and marginalization of vulnerable groups, including exceptional learners, stateless, street migrant, and refugee children and youths, and the limited use of frameworks of emergency planning with and for marginalized and at-risk individuals. These challenges are multi-sectoral and intersecting, and they require multi- and interdisciplinary interventions to inform inclusive responses. These issues include being at a greater risk of excluding vulnerable learners from gaining access to equitable education, online, remote, and blended education. Intersecting forms of discrimination, such as gender, socioeconomic, and legal status, further exacerbate the problem. This has alerted us to examine the living conditions of marginalized and vulnerable populations around the globe and to reveal their experiences, problems, and needs from an educational perspective, thus bringing insights into their vulnerabilities during the pandemic.

The Role of Market Research in the Internationalization of Small and Medium Enterprises Adeel Asghar, Shahid Kalim Khan, 2019-10-14 Master s Thesis from the year 2009 in the subject Business economics Market research grade 3 5 M lardalen University School of Sustainable Development of Society and Technology course MS International Marketing language English abstract The topic of this dissertation comes from these two areas internationalization of small and medium enterprises SMEs and international entrepreneurship When looking into SMEs internationalization research there is lack of material about pre internationalization stage of SMEs It is also very critical that firms should have theoretical guidelines to follow in early internationalization stage when they have no or very little international experience SMEs are well known for their innovative and risk taking approach This study aims at providing them with a strategic framework or method to analyze the marketability of their products or services and exploit internationalization opportunities It also focuses on helping them in reducing their risks linked with cross border business opportunities This research is performed through case study method A new conceptual model has been developed by integrating relevant standard approaches within the field of research This model has been further explained by implementing it on case company Internationalization of SMEs in general has become a very famous topic in the world This is the area which is developing further at present Plenty of research has been performed from different perspectives and angles International Entrepreneurship is an emerging area when it is yet struggling for standard definition International entrepreneurship theory and SMEs are very much connected areas While making a study related to internationalization of SMEs we cannot neglect the importance of entrepreneurs which is widely recognized as the main variables in SMEs internationalization Developing theoretical and conceptual model by integrating different existing theories is very usual in

SMEs internationalization research area This may be due the reason that there is lack of standard theories or approaches in this area so there is an absolute need for such efforts Motivated by similar drive authors aimed to create customized theoretical framework for analysis with the help of different standard approaches in the field

Life Skills, Sexual Maturation and Sanitation Julie Stewart,2003 Most pupils in eastern and southern Africa leave school before they have received an education equipping them with many essential life skills There has therefore been much discussion of life skills as a key part of the primary curriculum and about better equipping pupils to cope with unfavourable economic climates They advocate that pupils acquire skills for survival after school rather than the largely academic curriculum which is taught at present This exploratory research from Kenya is part of a three part study conducted in Kenya Uganda and Zimbabwe It focuses on the provision of teaching of life skills in primary schools how the process of sexual maturation for boys and girls is handled in schools and at home and explores whether there is a link between the lack of adequate sanitation protection for girls and dropout rates

The Customer Journey in Omnichannel Retail. An exploratory requirements analysis for a customer journey modelling and analysis tool Marie Klose,2019-03-01 Master s Thesis from the year 2018 in the subject Business economics Offline Marketing and Online Marketing grade 1 7 language English abstract The customer journey is a central topic for all retailers to consider to be able to successfully manage customer experience and to thereby ensure the survival of a business Hence managing and influencing customer journeys has been of importance since the emergence of retailing However to successfully manage customer journeys has become increasingly complex with the development of omnichannel retail Classical techniques to analyze and influence customer journeys are insufficient for today s customers who are seamlessly using multiple devices and switching between different channels during their purchase journey while expecting a uniform and personalized customer experience This research paper studies the topic of customer journey analysis in omnichannel retail and discusses which requirements need to be fulfilled to successfully model analyze and influence the respective customer journeys By conducting a systematic literature review it was proven that a tool is needed to model and analyze individual customer journeys in omnichannel retail in real time making use of online and offline customer data Through the method of semi structured interviews requirements that are related to developing and deploying such a tool were collected in an exploratory way This is from scientific importance as until now few research has addressed the topic of ways to model and analyze customer journeys in omnichannel retail Additionally with rising customer expectations and an increased competition between retailers the importance of successfully managing customer journeys is indispensable in retailing The findings of this paper imply a high probability of an increasing need to deploy a customer journey modelling and analysis tool by omnichannel retailers However further in depth analysis and specification of characteristics that this tool requires to fulfill are needed to successfully develop it
