Autoportrait:

Robert Indiana Susan Elizabeth Ryan, Robert Indiana, 2000-01-01 The author argues that Indiana's strident visual language emerges from his tendency to recast his life in story and verse a fact that unlocks complex and secret tissues of figurative meaning within the deceptively simple canvases By illuminating the enigmas in Indiana's word and image combinations she helps to explain the longevity of LOVE and its influence on a later generation of artists BOOK JACKET

Nineteenth-century French Photography, 2022-05-31 A deep dive into the pioneering collection of nineteenth century French photographs equipment and ephemera which is a cornerstone of the George Eastman Museum In the early twentieth century Parisian photographer amateur historian and collector Gabriel Cromer 1873 1934 amassed a collection that traced photography's prehistory invention and development to about 1890 His dream was to found a national museum of the photographic arts in France Although Cromer's ambition was never realized his collection was central to establishing the world's first museum dedicated to photography the George Eastman Museum The Cromer Collection of Nineteenth Century French Photography considers the origin and circulation of the collection as well as the influence it has had on photography as a field of study The book's six essays written by French and American scholars explore the Cromer Collection's complex passage across markets borders and functions For more than half a century curators and scholars worldwide have drawn extensively on the Gabriel Cromer Collection for exhibitions and publications this book provides the first focused scholarly study of the foundational resource Becoming Leonor Fini Andrea Kollnitz, 2025-05-29 An analysis of surrealist artist

Leonor Fini's self-fashioning and dressing up practices that explores broader questions of gender and identity performance creating and styling the self and the woman artist's role Enlightened Animals in Eighteenth-Century Art Sarah Cohen, 2021-02-11 How do our senses help us to understand the world This question which preoccupied Enlightenment thinkers also emerged as a key theme in depictions of animals in eighteenth century art This book examines the ways in which painters such as Chardin as well as sculptors porcelain modelers and other decorative designers portrayed animals as sensing subjects who physically confirmed the value of material experience The sensual style known today as the Rococo encouraged the proliferation of animals as exemplars of empirical inquiry ranging from the popular subject of the monkey artist to the alchemical wonders of the life sized porcelain animals created for the Saxon court Examining writings on sensory knowledge by La Mettrie Condillac Diderot and other philosophers side by side with depictions of the animal in art Cohen argues that artists promoted the animal as a sensory subject while also validating the material basis of their own professional practice

Poetry's Self-portrait Mary E. Eichbauer, 1992 The intricate relationship between poetry and the visual arts has invited centuries of speculation about a deep connection of all art to mysterious sources of inspiration In contrast this study considers their association to be the ideological effect of a colonizing gaze which is essentially self-referential By analyzing the poetry of Ren Char and John Ashbery both deeply involved with art and artists this study persuasively argues that the arts traditionally act for poetry as a kind of muse a source of inspiration and a mirror for poetic self-definition      Federal
