Jones, Tim Ayers, 2021-07-19 York explores the archaeology art architecture and cultural heritage of the city in the late Middle Ages In the years since the resurrection of the British Archaeological Association conference in 1976 the association has met in the city only once in 1988 for a conference that celebrated Yorkshire Monasticism As a consequence the secular and vernacular architecture as well as the architecture art and imagery of York Minster were excluded from its scope something redressed in the meeting that took place in 2017 As many recent publications have focused on York in the earlier medieval period this book shines a much needed light on the city in the later medieval ages Starting with a range of essays on York Minster by authors directly involved in major conservation projects undertaken in the last ten years the book also includes information on the vernacular architecture and transport infrastructure of York as well as the parochial and material culture of the period Illuminating the extensive resources for the study of the late Middle Ages in England s second capital this book provides new research on this important city and will be suitable for researchers in medieval archaeology art history literature and material culture The New Volumes of the Encyclopædia Britannica ,1902

New Light on the Youth of Dante: the Course of Dante's Life Prior to 1290 Traced in the Inferno Cantos 3-13 Gertrude Leigh,1930

The End of Tradition? Nezar Alsayyad,2004-08-02 Rooted in real world observations this book questions the concept of tradition whether contemporary globalization will prove its demise or whether there is a process of simultaneous ending and renewing In his introduction Nezar Alsayyad discusses the meaning of the word tradition and the current debates about the end of tradition Thereafter the book is divided into three parts The three chapters in part I explore the inextricable link between tradition and modern revealing the geopolitical implications of this link Part II looks at tradition as a process of invention and here the three chapters are all concerned with the making of landscapes and landscape myths showing how the spectacle of history can be aestheticized and naturalized Finally Part III shows how tradition is a regime programmed and policed and how it has been deployed resisted and reworked through hegemonic struggles that seek to create both built environments and citizen subjects
