Code for What? Clifford Lee,Elisabeth Soep,2023-01-10 Coding for a purpose helping young people combine journalism data design and code to make media that makes a difference Educators are urged to teach code for all to make a specialized field accessible for students usually excluded from it In Code for What Clifford Lee and Elisabeth Soep instead ask the question code for what What if coding were a justice driven medium for storytelling rather than a narrow technical skill What if democratizing computer science went beyond the usual one off workshop and empowered youth to create digital products for social impact Lee and Soep answer these questions with stories of a diverse group of young people in Oakland California who combine journalism data design and code to create media that make a difference These teenage and young adult producers created interactive projects that explored gendered and racialized dress code policies in schools designed tools for LGBTQ youth experiencing discrimination investigated facial recognition software and what can be done about it and developed a mobile app to promote mental health through self awareness and outreach for support and more for distribution to audiences that could reach into the millions Working with educators and media professionals at YR Media an award winning organization that helps young people from underserved communities build skills in media journalism and the arts these teens found their own vibrant answers to why code They code for insight connection and community accountability creative expression joy and hope

“This Is America” Katie Rios,2021-06-10 In This Is America Race Gender and Politics in America s Musical Landscape Katie Rios argues that prominent American artists and musicians build encoded gestures of resistance into their works and challenge the status quo These artists offer both an interpretation and a critique of what This Is America means Using Childish Gambino s video for This Is America as a starting point Rios considers how elements including clothing hairstyles body movements gaze lighting effects distortion and word play symbolize American dissonance From Laurie Anderson s presence in challenging authority and playing with traditional gender roles in her works to the Black female feminism and social activism of Beyonc Rhiannon Giddens and Janelle Mon e to hip hop as resistance in the age of Trump to sonic and visual variety in the musical Hamilton the subjects are as powerful as they are topical Rios explores the ways in which artists relate to and represent underrepresented groups especially groups that are not traditionally perceived as having a majority voice The encoded resistances recur across performances and video recordings so that they begin to become recognizable as repeated acts of resistance directed at injustices based on a number of categories including race gender class religion and politics
