

CHAPTER ONE

INTRODUCTION

This chapter introduces the research work by discussing the background of the study, problem area, problem statement, significance of the study, scope, and limitations. Also contained in this chapter are the aim of the research, the research objectives, and the research methodology employed to achieve the research objectives.

1.1 BACKGROUND TO THE STUDY

The World is experiencing an information knowledge revolution that is fundamentally transforming how human activities are carried out. Governments worldwide are adopting e-government as a means of improving their services to businesses and citizens, promoting economic and social development, and enhancing the effectiveness and efficiency of government operations (Balogun, 2006).

The computer plays a vital role in the development of any company it also saves some of the complex problems that are been faced by man and processes voluminous data within a short time or at an incredible speed (Kumar, 2016).

The rapid advancement of mobile technology has significantly transformed various aspects of our lives, including how we engage in commerce and interact within our communities. College and university students, in particular, form a vibrant and dynamic community that often requires a convenient and efficient platform to buy, sell, and trade items within their local campus environment. Traditional methods of classified advertisements and physical bulletin boards are no longer adequate to meet the diverse needs and preferences of modern students.

The emergence of mobile applications has opened up new possibilities for facilitating peer-to-peer transactions and fostering community engagement among students. The Brillouin Scattering Part 1, 2022-06-24 Brillouin Scattering Volume 109 in the Semiconductors and Semimetal series marks the centenary of Leon Brillouin's seminal 1922 paper which provided a detailed theory of the effect that now bears his name Stimulated Brillouin Scattering SBS is the strongest third order optical nonlinearity and plays an important role in contemporary science and applications particularly lasers communications and fibre optics as well as playing a new role in experimental physics and the life sciences This volume provides a foundational perspective on Brillouin scattering starting with a historical review of Brillouin scattering the theory of SBS and the convergence between SBS and Optomechanics We then consider SBS in several different waveguide geometries including photonic crystal fibres integrated optics and superfluids From the leading researchers in the field Historical theoretical and scientific perspective Pedagogical

Handbook of the Economics of Art and Culture Victor A. Ginsburgh, David Throsby, 2006-09-13 Over the last 30 or 40 years a substantial literature has grown up in which the tools of economic theory and analysis have been applied to problems in the arts and culture Economists who have surveyed the field generally locate the origins of contemporary cultural economics as being in 1966 the year of publication of the first major work in modern times dedicated specifically to the economics of the arts It was a book by Baumol and Bowen which showed that economic analysis could illuminate the supply of and demand for artistic services the contribution of the arts sector to the economy and the role of public policy Following the appearance of the Baumol and Bowen work interest in the economics of the arts grew steadily embracing areas such as demand for the arts the economic functions of artists the role of the nonprofit sector and other areas Cultural economics also expanded to include the cultural or entertainment industries the media movies the publishing industry popular music as well as heritage and museum management property right questions in particular copyright and the role of new communication technologies such as the internet The field is therefore located at the crossroads of several disciplines economics and management but also art history art philosophy sociology and law The Handbook is placed firmly in economics but it also builds bridges across these various disciplines and will thus be of interest to researchers in all these different fields as well as to those who are engaged in cultural policy issues and the role of culture in the development of our societies Presents an overview of the history of art markets Addresses the value of art and consumer behavior toward acquiring art Examines the effect of art on economies of developed and developing countries around the world The Politics of Islamism John L. Esposito, Lily Zubaidah Rahim, Naser Ghobadzadeh, 2017-11-09 This book offers a nuanced and multi-layered approach towards comprehending the possibilities of democratization or likelihood of authoritarian resilience in the Muslim world The volume highlights the complex diversity within Islamist movements and parties characterised by internal tensions struggles and contestations The very existence of this diversity within and among Islamist movements and their general willingness to partake in mainstream politics signals an important transformation in the Muslim world over recent decades It demonstrates that the Muslim world has gravitated from the simplistic focus on the compatibility or incompatibility of Islam and democracy. Islamist movements and parties embody the multiple manifestations and trajectories within political Islam. The granular case studies and theological analyses in this volume draw attention to the policy refinements, socio-political reforms, and ideological transformations engendered by Muslim intellectuals and Islamist movements and ideologues. The diverse political landscape in the Muslim world is inextricably linked to the socio-political and theological shifts within Islamism, in particular the yearning for greater social, economic, and political justice, a yearning that lies at the core of an inclusive wasatiyyah Islam.

The Sociology of Shari'a Adam Possamai, James T. Richardson, Bryan S. Turner, 2023-04-10. This edited collection focuses on the comparative analysis of the application of Shari'a in countries with Muslim minorities (e.g., USA, Australia, Germany, and Italy) and majorities (e.g., Malaysia, Bangladesh, Turkey, and Morocco). Most chapters in this new edition have been revised, and the book as a whole has been updated to give even more international coverage. This text provides a sociological and global analysis of a phenomenon that goes beyond the West versus the rest dichotomy. One example of this is how included are case studies in Muslim minority countries, not exclusively located in the West. Although the contributors of this book come from various disciplines such as law, anthropology, and sociology, this volume has a strong sociological focus on the analysis of Shari'a. The final part of the book indeed draws out from all the case studies explored some ground-breaking theories on the sociology of Shari'a, such as the application of Black, Chambliss, and Eisenstein's sociological theories. This text appeals to students and researchers working in the sociology of religion.

The Catholic Campaign for State Aid Michael Hogan, 1978. The major domestic issue of the 1960s was education. Education politics meant state aid, either in terms of money spent by State and Commonwealth governments or of influence on election results, etc.

Academic Migration, Discipline Knowledge and Pedagogical Practice Colina Mason, Felicity Rawlings-Sanaei, 2013-11-26. This volume makes a distinctive and innovative contribution to the globalisation of higher education literature by highlighting the myriad benefits of academic migration. Sixteen academic migrants across the Asia-Pacific region reflect on their experiences and wisdom gained across geographical, cultural, and disciplinary domains. Each one provides an authentic account of ways in which their experiences and insights have benefited their host institutions and enhanced their pedagogical practice. The groundbreaking volume calls for a shift in academic culture, one in which academic migrants are respected for their cultural, social, and intellectual resources, their enhanced interpretive ability, and their capacity to view the world through multiple lenses. Are these not the characteristics of educators which universities seek in their efforts to internationalise their institutions and develop in their students an understanding of global citizenship? The volume forges new territory in articulating the relationship between academic migrants' conceptual understanding and the construction of knowledge. The following themes are addressed in this book: Migration of Ideas, Conceptual Understanding and Pedagogical Enrichment, Indigenous Pedagogies and Bridging Worldviews, Changing Academic Identities and Reshaping Pedagogies, Teaching Practice and the
