Globalization or Regionalization of the American and Asian Car Industry? M. Freyssenet, K. Shimizu, G. Volpato, 2003-04-15 The automobile sector is one of the most archetypal global industries and is seen by many as one of the main drivers behind the homogenisation of world markets due to firms internationalization strategies and the social practices that firms impose This book argues that this is not entirely the case due to the heterogeneity of firms and the diversity of strategies pursued It highlights the diversity and forms of internationalization and the preference for regionalization rather than globalization that has occurred over the past decade This book looks specifically at the American and Asian car industry

Baker, 2018-08-23 More complex and imposing than any other vehicle in the British emergency services the fire engine has a long and interesting history The earliest water pumps had been developed by the eighteenth century basic manual pumps that had to be hauled around by people or horses and were often only used on fire insured premises In the nineteenth and twentieth centuries horse drawn steam powered fire engines and eventually motorised fire engines came to revolutionise firefighting offering far greater versatility and the brigades came to be run by the municipalities In this beautifully illustrated introduction Eddie Baker charts the history of fire engines and their variants and the increasingly complex equipment they have carried such as high rise ladders and high pressure hoses He also explains the wider history of the fire service and how the engines have been shaped by its needs and most importantly those of the firefighters themselves     Global Competition and Local Networks Rod B. McNaughton, 2018-02-06 This title was first published in 2002 The interest in becoming globally competitive through network strategies particularly networks between small and medium sized firms in local business communities is high among academic researchers economic development agencies and growth orientated firms Important contributions to our understanding of the strategic use of networks are coming from a number of disciplinary and theoretical perspectives This volume provides a unique opportunity to both synthesize this diverse literature and report the results of original research It is particularly relevant to scholars of business and management geography and economics     Business Japan ,1990-07     Toyota Technical Review Toyota Jidōsha Kōgyō Kabushiki Kaisha, 1992     New Zealand Forest Industries ,1989     Autocar & Motor ,1992-11-04     Federal Register ,1976     North western reporter.
