The Psychobiology of Trauma and Resilience Across the Lifespan Douglas L. Delahanty,2008-09-05 Research has suggested that childhood experiences confer risk resilience for reactions to trauma in adulthood and predictors and correlates of posttraumatic stress disorder PTSD appear to differ developmentally Research in PTSD has typically been conducted by either child or adult researchers with relatively little overlap or communication between the two camps Developmental models of PTSD are necessary to fully understand the complex constellation of responses to trauma across the lifespan Such models can inform study designs and lead to novel developmentally appropriate interventions To this end this book is organized in such a way as to present and integrate research into child adult and older adult trauma samples in an attempt to culminate in a testable model of PTSD risk and resilience across the lifespan Each author incorporates a developmental slant to their individual chapter and the chapters are organized to highlight potential differences in our understanding of risk and resiliency between children and adults Initial chapters concerning pre and peri traumatic risk factors for PTSD lead into chapters reviewing specific risk and resilience factors in adults and children Additional chapters focus on the impact of childhood trauma on adult functioning and the biology of PTSD in children adults and older adults As PTSD rarely occurs in a pure form specific chapters focus on the impact of comorbid disorders in our understanding of PTSD and the final chapters consider both psychosocial and pharmacological treatments for PTSD in children and adults

Psychology Catalog 2005 Neil Thomson,2004-09 Child and Adolescent Behavioral Health Edilma L. Yearwood,Geraldine S. Pearson,Jamesetta A. Newland,2012-01-18 As an increasing number of children and adolescents with psychiatric symptoms go unrecognized in our current healthcare system the ability to identify and treat these issues in multiple healthcare settings has become vitally important With access to primary care providers increasing and a shortage of child psychiatric providers collaboration between psychiatric pediatric and family advanced practice nurses is essential to improving care for this vulnerable population Child and Adolescent Behavioral Health provides a practical reference to aid in this endeavour Written and reviewed by over 70 nurse experts it is a must have reference for all practitioners caring for children and adolescents Working with Children and Adolescents Janet V. DeLany,Margaret J. Pendzick,2009 This book is a valuable resource for directing the clinical reasoning of occupational therapy assistants as they prepare to provide services to children and adolescents Divided into 4 sections this book explains best practice occupational therapy services based on knowledge about occupations occupation based and non occupation based conceptual models and the occupational development of children and adolescents Through the use of multiple vignettes and case studies the occupational therapy assistants learn how to implement interventions for children and adolescents who are experiencing specific health and learning challenges Reflection and application questions at the end of each chapter reinforce text content Occupational therapy assistant Motor Control Anne Shumway-Cook, Marjorie H.
