College Rankings Goodreads Choice Today:

Libraries in the Information Age Denise K. Fourie, Nancy E. Loe, 2016-05-23 The book Library Media Connection cited as something all librarians need to have on their shelves is now thoroughly revised for today's 21st century library environment. Covering both technology and library practices the title has been a go-to text for librarians and library school students since 2002. Since the second edition of this must-have book was published in late 2009 libraries have undergone profound changes primarily linked to advances in technology. We've seen the debut of RDA, the release of new Pew Research library and Internet use data and the establishment of digital repositories, community MakerSpaces and community reads programs. Of course libraries have also been affected by the expanding use of social media. This thoroughly updated title addresses all these changes and more, bringing you up to date on the monumental shifts impacting librarianship. The book is designed to introduce LIS students to the profession, preparing them to enter an exciting and evolving world. It clarifies the changing roles and responsibilities of library professionals, new paradigms for evaluating information and characteristics and functions of today's library personnel. Among other subjects, chapters cover preparing materials for use, circulation, reference services, ethics in the information age, Internet trends and job search basics. References, websites and publications at the end of every chapter point to further resources and appendices supply information such as policies, the library bill of rights and the Freedom to Read statement.

College Choice in America Charles F. Manski, David A. Wise, 1983 The most crucial choice a high school graduate makes is whether to attend college or to go to work. Here is the most sophisticated study of the complexities behind that decision. Based on a unique data set of nearly 23,000 seniors from more than 1,300 high schools who were tracked over several years, the book treats the following questions in detail: Who goes to college? Does low family income prevent some young people from enrolling or does scholarship aid offset financial need? How important are scholastic aptitude scores, high school class rank, race and socioeconomic background in determining college applications and admissions? Do test scores predict success in higher education? Using the data from the National Longitudinal Study of the Class of 1972, the authors present a set of interrelated analyses of student and institutional behavior, each focused on a particular aspect of the process of choosing and being chosen by a college. Among their interesting findings, most high school graduates would be admitted to some four-year college of average quality were they to apply; applicants do not necessarily prefer the highest quality school; high school class rank and SAT scores are equally important in college admissions; federal scholarship aid has had only a small effect on enrollments at four-year colleges but a much stronger effect on attendance at two-year colleges; the attention paid to SAT scores in admissions is commensurate with the power of the scores in predicting persistence to a degree. This clearly written book is
