Movie Roadshows Kim R. Holston, 2013-01-01 This work examines a film distribution system paralleling the rise of early features and persisting until 1972 when Man of La Mancha was the final roadshow to require reserved seating. Synonymous with Hollywood's star-studded premieres, roadshows were longer and cost more than regular features, making the experience similar to attending the legitimate theater. Roadshows often epic in subject matter, played selected theaters usually only one in major urban centers until demand decreased. By the 1960s, they were musical overtures, intermissions, entre-acte, and exit music, and souvenir programs for sale in the lobby. Throughout the text are recollections by people who attended roadshows, including actor John Kerr and actresses Barbara Eden and Ingrid Pitt. The focus is on roadshows released in the United States, but an appendix identifies international roadshows and films forecast but not released as roadshows. Included are plots, contemporary critical reaction, premiere dates, production background, and methods of promotion, i.e., the ballyhoo.

Issues covered include cultural globalization and Asian regionalization, identity, regionalism, and industry practices, and inter-Asian and transpacific co-production practices among the U.S., A, China, South Korea, Japan, India, Hong Kong, Taiwan, Argentina, Australia, and New Zealand. Exhibitors Daily Review, 1930.

web an open subset of the riemann surface for the multivalued function  $f(z) = \log z$  in mathematics particularly in complex analysis a riemann surface is a one dimensional complex manifold loosely speaking this means that any riemann surface is formed by gluing together open subsets of the complex plane  $\mathbb{C}$  using holomorphic gluing maps
