Problems of Seismology I. V. Riznichenko, 1992-06-12 This volume is a selection of the most significant papers Yu V Riz nichenko wrote during his 30 year career and concerns the development of fundamental problems of seismology The book is in five parts The first is devoted to source seismicity It starts with a chapter on the elementary unit of seismicity viz the earthquake source The size of an earthquake is in itself a significant problem in seismology and is discussed here The main energetic parameters of the source are considered namely seismic energy magnitude seismic moment geometric size of the main fault displacements along the fault and stress drop The main results of comparison mutual adjustment and correlations between these parameters are presented The following chapters are a logical continuation of the first from an individual earthquake source to a set of earthquakes in space and time viz a seismic regime The chapters convey the now classical principles of seismic regime parametrization and mapping techniques for long term average seismic activity based on basic principles How to determine the maximum possible earthquake is a central question Both the theoretical or gnostic and practical i e seismic zoning aspects are considered Methods of determining and mapping the maximum possible earthquakes are proposed in particular by correlating them with seismic activity and in general from seismological and other geophysical geological geomorphological and geodetical data sets
