Foregrounding their voices and experiences The Kids Are Online explores how they navigate their identities across platforms and how they really feel about their young digital lives Ysabel Gerrard talked to more than a hundred teens to unpack the myths and realities of their social media use Instead of framing today's big platforms as either good or bad she identifies moments when young people encounter social apps in paradoxical ways both good and bad at the same time Using the concepts of stigma secrecy safety and social comparison she helps readers understand young people's experiences The Kids Are Online proposes a series of recommendations for parents families schools technology companies and policymakers to imagine how we might build safer social media systems

Teens, Social Media, and Image Based Abuse Jessica Ringrose, Kaitlyn Regehr, 2025-09-01 This Open Access book explores how teens use social media how they produce consume and share sexual images and how they understand and respond to harmful digital sexual content and interactions Capturing the views of nearly 500 young people across the UK our book shows how image based sexual harassment and abuse IBSHA impacts all young people and is a society wide problem that needs to be urgently addressed Developing a socio cultural and tech affordances approach to understanding social media platform economies we show how game like engagement features keep users on apps and expanding their networks opening up teens to considerable online risk and harms We argue a lack of consent in the digital environments intersects with society wide age old norms of gender and sexual inequalities facilitating image based sexual harassment and abuse IBSHA Educational policy and curriculum focused on abstinence anti sexing messaging and a focus on child pornography laws fail to address gendered and sexualised power dynamics and peer on peer abuse We argue a multifaceted approach is needed to improve the law technology companies and education Better digital literacy and sex education that covers social media use risk harms and reporting in platform specific ways would offer better supports for youth
