Writing and Editing for Digital Media Brian Carroll, 2025-12-12 An essential guide to writing and editing for digital media, this sixth edition responds to the mainstreaming of genAI, Generative AI, and LLMs (Large Language Models) among many other changes in the best practices of digital storytelling. Carroll explains and demonstrates how to effectively write for digital spaces and places that typically abound with graphical content, multimedia, and hypertextual interactive elements. He also combines hands-on practical exercises with information on key topics such as misinformation and disinformation and the proliferation of artificial intelligence. This new edition specifically explores the ethical questions raised by AI as well as the new possibilities it presents. Each chapter features lessons and exercises through which students can build a solid understanding of the ways that digital communication provides opportunities for dynamic storytelling and multi-directional communication. It also speaks to writers, editors, public relations practitioners, and social media managers and marketers. Updated with contemporary examples and new pedagogy throughout, this is the ideal handbook for students seeking careers in digital media, particularly in content development and digital storytelling. It is an essential text for students of media communication, public relations, marketing, and journalism who are looking to develop their writing and editing skills for these ever-evolving fields and professions. This book also has accompanying Support Material that offers additional weekly activities and assignments, providing students additional opportunity to put theory into practice.

Douyin, TikTok and China's Online Screen Industry Chunmeizi Su, 2023-09-22 TikTok has drawn attention from all over the world. Even if you have never used it before, you would still be familiar with its name. Many people have assumed that it is a US-generated platform and normally awed at its real origin: a Chinese-born and operated platform, a sister or parallel platform of Douyin. Because of the short video platform TikTok and also its dispute with the US government, people have started paying attention to what is really happening and changing in China. Two questions that hang over everyone's mind seem to be: why China? And why TikTok? This book attempted to answer the question of why short video platforms such as TikTok, the most popular made-in-China product of all the Chinese digital platforms, became a significant competitor on the global stage. This book explores the reasons behind the rise of short video platforms in China, with a focus on the sudden and unexpected success of TikTok and its parallel platform Douyin. Beginning with the historical development of China's online screen industry the book goes on to investigate the ICT industry its business models and impact on the screen industry to unfold the reasons behind the domestic popularity of Douyin It draws on a spectrum of sources including policy documents industry reports and expert analysis which is supplemented by interviews with key people in the field It traces the changing dynamics of the Chinese online screen ecology and shows how a mixture of technological industrial and cultural factors contributed to the proliferation of short video platforms in China This engaging and topical book will be ideal reading for students and scholars of media and communication studies platform studies and political economy studies
