Exploring Human Genetics

Genetics is the study of how traits are passed from parents to offspring. In this lab, you will explore the inheritance of a trait called "tongue rolling" (the ability to curl the tip of your tongue into a U-shape).

Procedure:

1. Determine if you can roll your tongue. Record your result in the table below.

2. Interview your family members to determine if they can roll their tongues. Record their results in the table below.

3. Analyze the data to determine the inheritance pattern of tongue rolling.

Table 1: Tongue Rolling Data
