Ecological Migration, Development and Transformation Peilin Li, Xiaoyi Wang, 2015-06-05 After over 30 years of reform and opening up China's aggregate economic volume is now the second largest in the world. Over the past decade many provinces in the western region of China have implemented ecological migration projects of different scales which have attracted considerable attention both in China and abroad. The projects indicate first that there is an urgent need for this type of endeavor whether the goal is to reduce poverty or to protect the environment we need to move the poor populations out of the ecologically fragile regions. Secondly the projects indicate that the Chinese government is capable of meeting this need. Migration projects are complex and costly and without sufficient financial resources and systematic planning migration may fail to reduce poverty and could even aggravate it. The rapid economic growth in China however makes such migration projects viable.
