Asia's Changing International Investment Regime Julien Chaisse, Tomoko

Ishikawa, Sufian Jusoh, 2017-10-24 This book focuses on the Asia Pacific region delineating the evolving dynamics of foreign investment in the region It examines the relationship between efforts to increase foreign direct investment FDI and efforts to improve governance and inclusive growth and development Against a background of rapidly developing international investment law it emphasises the need to strike a balance between these domestic and international legal frameworks seeking to promote both foreign investment and the laws and policies necessary to regulate investments and investor conduct Foreign investments play a pivotal role in most countries political economies and in order to encourage cross border capital flows countries have taken various steps such as revising their domestic legal frameworks liberalising rules on inward and outward investment and creating special regimes that provide incentives and protections for foreign investment Alongside the developments in domestic laws countries have also taken bilateral and multilateral action including entering into trade and or investment agreements Further the book explores regional investment trends highlights specific features of Asia Pacific investment laws and treaties and analyses policy implications It addresses four overarching themes the trends how Asia Pacific s agreements compare with recent global trends in the evolving rules on foreign investment what China is doing current investment arbitration practice in Asia and the importance of regionalising investment law in the Asia Pacific region In addition it identifies and discusses the research and policy gaps that should be filled in order to promote more sustainable and responsible investment The book offers a valuable resource not only for academics and students but also for trade and investment officials policy makers diplomats economists lawyers think tanks and business leaders interested in the governance and regulation of foreign investment economic policy reforms and the development of new types of investment agreements The Law of Investment Treaties Jeswald W. Salacuse, 2015 In this revised edition the nature history and significance of investment treaties are examined as well as their impact on international investors and investments and the governments that are party to them Recent treaties trends and controversy are also discussed Public Procurement Reform and Governance in Africa S.N. Nyeck, 2016-06-29 This book presents an interdisciplinary exploration of the governance of public procurement reform in Africa Through a bottom up approach to case studies and comparative analyses scholars practitioners and social activists write about the organizational mechanisms and implementation gaps in public procurement governance in light of the general premises of national reform Reforming the ways in which government purchases works goods and services from the private sector is one of the most sweeping policy reform undertaken in Africa in the past decade Despite the transnational scope of policy change very little is known about the mechanisms of public procurement governance at the subnational level The argument in this volume is that policy reforms that mitigate contractual hazards along the three dimensional law politics business matrix are more likely to bring about meaningful institutional transformation and broader social accountability Key to substantive transformation of public procurement is the revitalization and professionalization of the public sector to meet the opportunities and challenges of development by contract
