Refugee Azmat Ashraf,2020-08-21 Following a bloody violent struggle in 1971 East Pakistan became the independent state of Bangladesh Caught in the midst of this conflict were the Biharis a Muslim minority group who originally fled the Indian state of Bihar when India was partitioned by the British in 1947 Author Azmat Ashraf himself a Bihari was one year old when his family escaped India in 1953 for the relative safety of East Pakistan Less than two decades later after building a solid life for themselves his family were targeted by communal violence during Bangladesh s turbulent birth in which most of Azmat s family members were killed On the road once again it wasn t until 2002 nearly fifty years after his first migration that Azmat finally completed his epic search for a home settling in Canada with his wife and three daughters This book is a memoir of one family s fight for survival and to rebuild their lives following a series of unimaginable tragedies It is a story of human resilience in the face of evil of real love and true friendship and an inspiration for refugees everywhere who are struggling to find a place of security and prosperity in this world Despite the personal tragedies that Azmat and his family have suffered he has taken great care to provide a balanced view of the conflict of 1971 to help Pakistanis and Bangladeshis in particular and people of the subcontinent in general understand this painful part of their mutual history Asian Studies Newsletter ,1986 Universities Handbook ,2014

Rethinking Islamic Modernism Maria-Magdalena Pruss,2026-03-10 Over the course of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Muslim modernist thinkers and writers in South Asia demanded a reconciliation between Islam and European thought in response to a perceived crisis of Islam In the ensuing modernist movements newly founded voluntary associations and their lay members played a crucial role in popularizing and disseminating modernist ideas on the ground transforming definitions of both religious identity and community in the process Through an in depth and multifaceted historical analysis of one of the foremost Muslim associations of colonial North India the Society for the Defence of Islam Anjuman i Himayat i Islam established 1884 in Lahore Maria Magdalena Pruss proposes a nuanced understanding of Islamic modernism as a mode of thought highlighting its internal diversity and complex development over a period of more than sixty years The evolution of this influential association reveals the role and work of lay people who are shown to be a highly active force in defining and redefining Muslim religious identity through social and educational reform community welfare initiatives polemical and apologetic publications and debates both within and outside the Muslim community as well as anti colonial and nationalist activism Turning the spotlight away from religious scholars and drawing from extensive previously untapped local archives and vernacular source materials Rethinking Islamic Modernism uncovers alternative and localized genealogies of Islamic modernism and makes a compelling argument for taking modernism seriously as a religious tradition in its own right

Crafting India's Skill Ecology Saikat Maitra, Sebastian Schwecke, 2025-11-26 This volume traces how the discourse of skill evolved in colonial and postcolonial India from the mid nineteenth century to the present neoliberal era It introduces the concept of skill ecology to capture the broader political economic and social environment within which skills emerge transform and acquire meaning Skill is examined here not merely as a technical attribute but as a historically contingent category shaped by state policy capitalist ideologies and hierarchies of power Focusing on industrial training from the late colonial period particularly the 1930s through Nehruvian state led industrialisation and into the era of neoliberal reform the book explores how skilling became a terrain of collaboration and contestation between the state and the capital It also reveals how social relations influence the legitimacy of skills determining what forms of labour are seen as skilled or unskilled and for whom Combining perspectives from history political science and colonial and postcolonial studies this interdisciplinary work offers fresh insights into the politics of labour and development in South Asia It will be essential reading for scholars and researchers in modern history political science sociology economics social policy and Asian studies

Parliamentary Papers Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons, 1901 Enlightenment in the Colony Aamir R. Mufti, 2009-01-10 Enlightenment in the Colony opens up the history of the Jewish question for the first time to a broader discussion one of the social exclusion of religious and cultural minorities in modern times and in particular the crisis of Muslim identity in modern India Aamir Mufti identifies the Hindu Muslim conflict in India as a colonial variation of what he calls the exemplary crisis of minority Jewishness in Europe He shows how the emergence of this conflict in the late nineteenth century represented an early instance of the reinscription of the Jewish question in a non Western society undergoing modernization under colonial rule In so doing he charts one particular route by which this European phenomenon linked to nation states takes on a global significance Mufti examines the literary dimensions of this crisis of identity through close readings of canonical texts of modern Western mostly British literature as well as major works of modern Indian literature in Urdu and English He argues that the one characteristic shared by all emerging national cultures since the nineteenth century is the minoritization of some social and cultural fragment of the population and that national belonging and minority separatism go hand in hand with modernization Enlightenment in the Colony calls for the adoption of secular minority and exilic perspectives in criticism and intellectual life as a means to critique the very forms of marginalization that give rise to the uniquely powerful minority voice in world literatures The Illustrated Weekly of India University. Enquiry Commission,1955 From the Seams of History Bharati Ray,1995 The ten essays which make up the body of this book are drawn from a wide variety of disciplines and weave a complex pattern of the experiences of women Beginning with the debate on widow remarriage in Bengal and Haryana the book moves on to examine how the new attire of the Bengali gentlewoman in the nineteenth century was tailored according to the values and anxieties of their dominant male counterparts One essay takes the argument of male domination further and points out that male oppression in Indian society was in fact remarkable similar to that of the colonial masters The remaining essays are concerned with the role of education in reinforcing the value system of the larger society the questioning of socially legitimized assumptions the organized militancy of the peasant women of Bihar and the marginalization of women in the economic sphere Report Pubjab,
