The Identity of the Architect Laura Iloniemi,2019-12-23 Today there are more tools for communication than ever before yet very little in the way of reflection on how these are being used and even less on what exactly is being conveyed This issue of AD looks at how architecture is communicated from a cultural perspective Do the identities of practices or their business driven branding and promotional efforts resonate with the critical acclaim many architects seek Has slick image led media coverage sold the profession short How is it possible to convey the less visual and haptic qualities of architecture Can architects be more creative in their communication efforts making these joyous on their own terms as Le Corbusier did so memorably Is there really a need to succumb to the world of corporate marketing processes and managerial business jargon The issue explores notions of editing and curating work in an age of data deluge and discusses social media as a genuinely alternative space for communication rather than for just repurposing and regurgitating information relayed The Identity of the Architect encourages the promotion of practices as an integral extension of the very culture they hope to engender through their work Contributors Stephen Bayley Caroline Cole Adam Nathaniel Furman Gabor Gallov Jonathan Glancey Justine Harvey Owen Hopkins Crispin Kelly Jay Merrick Robin Monotti Juhani Pallasmaa Vicky Richardson Jenny Sabin and Austin Williams Featured architects Ian Ritchie BIG MVRDV IF_DO and Zaha Hadid Architects BIG Bjarke Ingels Group,2012 ,2009 Harbourscape Hans Kiiib,2007 At the urban scale the harbour is a grandiose meeting between the town and the fjord landscape representing an interesting interface between the local life and the big world Here we still have a great variety of old and new architectural typologies This scenery calls for quality The waterfront is a common gift for all citizens and it has been the gateway for hopes for a better life and a meeting place between tradition and the new In 2005 the Harbourscape Aalborg workshop and conference took place at Aalborg University with the participation of 45 architects engineers and planners from Denmark Norway the Netherlands and the United Kingdom The aim was to develop visionary strategies and design proposals emphasising the concepts of the development and regeneration of the waterfront in Aalborg This book provides a comprehensive presentation of the different methodological approaches and the resulting design concepts The aim has been to investigate a full scale dialogue on concepts and architectural quality in the waterfront development among stakeholders in this process and to illustrate how different design based methods can serve as tolls in the said process Harbourscape does not provide architectural solutions to well defined problems and projects It is an eye opener towards new concepts in waterfront development and the use of design based methods in regeneration projects provided by young architects as well as more experienced designers and academics B.
