The Sublime Object of Ideology Slavoj Žižek, 1989 In this provocative and original work Slavoj Žižek takes a look at the question of human agency in a postmodern world From the sinking of the Titanic to Hitchcock's Rear Window from the operas of Wagner to science fiction from Alien to the Jewish Joke the author's acute analyses explore the ideological fantasies of wholeness and exclusion which make up human society Žižek takes issue with analysts of the postmodern condition from Habermas to Sloterdijk showing that the idea of a post-ideological world ignores the fact that even if we do not take things seriously we are still doing them Rejecting postmodernism's unified world of surfaces he traces a line of thought from Hegel to Althusser and Lacan in which the human subject is split divided by a deep antagonism which determines social reality and through which ideology operates Linking key psychoanalytical and philosophical concepts to social phenomena such as totalitarianism and racism the book explores the political significance of these fantasies of control In so doing The Sublime Object of Ideology represents a powerful contribution to a psychoanalytical theory of ideology as well as offering persuasive interpretations of a number of contemporary cultural formations

Žižek and Media Studies M. Flisfeder, L. Willis, 2014-04-09 Film media and cultural theorists have long appealed to Lacanian theory in order to discern processes of subjectivization representation and ideological interpellation Here the contributors take up a Žižekian approach to studies of cinema and media raising questions about power ideology sexual difference and enjoyment

Metaphors of Confinement Monika Fludernik, 2019-08-13 Metaphors of Confinement: The Prison in Fact Fiction and Fantasy offers a historical survey of imaginings of the prison as expressed in carceral metaphors in a range of texts about imprisonment from Antiquity to the present as well as non-penal situations described as confining or restrictive These imaginings coalesce into a carceral imaginary that determines the way we think about prisons just as social debates about punishment and criminals feed into the way carceral imaginary develops over time Examining not only English language prose fiction but also poetry and drama from the Middle Ages to postcolonial particularly African literature the book juxtaposes literary and non literary contexts and contrasts fictional and nonfictional representations of imprisonment and discussions about the prison as institution and experiential reality It comments on present day trends of punitivity and foregrounds the ethical dimensions of penal punishment The main argument concerns the continuity of carceral metaphors through the centuries despite historical developments that included major shifts in policy such as the invention of the penitentiary The study looks at selected carceral metaphors often from two complementary perspectives such as the home as prison or the prison as home or the factory as prison and the prison as factory The case studies present particularly relevant genres and texts that employ these metaphors often from a historical perspective that analyses development through different periods

Dead Letters to Nietzsche, Or the Necromantic Art of Reading

Philosophy Joanne Faulkner,2010-05-18 Dead Letters to Nietzsche examines how writing shapes subjectivity through the example of Nietzsche's reception by his readers including Stanley Rosen David Farrell Krell Georges Bataille Laurence Lampert Pierre Klossowski and Sarah Kofman More precisely Joanne Faulkner finds that the personal identification that these readers form with Nietzsche's texts is an enactment of the kind of identity formation described in Lacanian and Kleinian psychoanalysis This investment of their subjectivity guides their understanding of Nietzsche's project the revaluation of values Not only does this work make a provocative contribution to Nietzsche scholarship but it also opens in an original way broader philosophical questions about how readers come to be invested in a philosophical project and how such investment alters their subjectivity

The Plague of Fantasies Slavoj Žižek, 1997 Slavoj Zizek is without doubt one of the most stimulating and vibrant thinkers of our time and his idiosyncratic blend of Lacan and Hegel is always sparkling with insight and studded with amusing stories anecdotes and jokes In The Plague of Fantasies Zizek approaches another enormous subject with characteristic brio and provocativeness The current epoch is plagued by fantasies there is an ever intensifying antagonism between the process of ever greater abstraction of our lives whether in the form of digitalization or market relations and the deluge of pseudo concrete images which surround us Traditional critical thought would have sought to trace the roots of abstract notions in concrete social reality but today the correct procedure is the inverse from pseudo concrete imagery to the abstract process which structures our lives Ranging in his examples from national differences in toilet design to cybersex and from intellectuals responses to the Bosnian war to Robert Schumann's music Zizek explores the relations between fantasy and ideology the way in which fantasy animates enjoyment while protecting against its excesses the associations of the notion of fetishism with fantasized seduction and the ways in which digitalization and cyberspace affect the status of subjectivity To the already initiated The Plague of Fantasies will be a welcome reminder of why they enjoy Zizek's writing so much For new readers it will be the beginning of a long and meaningful relationship
