“What do you know about Trastevere in Rome?”

Trastevere is a popular neighborhood located on the west bank of the Tiber River in Rome, Italy. It is known for its picturesque streets, trendy bars, and authentic Italian restaurants. Trastevere is also home to some notable landmarks, such as the Basilica of Santa Maria and the Villa Farnesina. It's a great place for a leisurely walk or to experience Roman nightlife.

“Tell me about the restaurants there?”

Trastevere is filled with a variety of authentic Italian restaurants, from traditional pizzerias to gourmet food spots. Some popular restaurants include De Fines al 28, which is known for its authentic Roman cuisine and traditional dishes such as cacio e pepe and amatriciana. Giovanni P.B. Santoro is another spot to visit, with the signature dish being their seafood carbonara. Also, Pizzeria Ai Marmi serves some of the best pizza in the area with long queues at peak hours. If you're looking for a fancier restaurant, Checchi or Carattini is a long-standing establishment famous for its truffle pasta. Whatever your preference, there's definitely something for everyone in Trastevere's food scene.

“What's a good time of the year to visit that isn't filled with tourists?”

If you want to avoid the crowds, it's best to avoid the peak tourist season which is from June to August.

Visiting Trastevere in the fall (September-November) or spring (April-June) could be a good idea as the weather is still pleasant, and the number of tourists is lower compared to the summer.

Visiting in January and February can also be quiet as it's considered the low season, but keep in mind that it can be cold and some restaurants and shops might close for winter break.

Overall, the best time to visit Trastevere would be spring or early fall when you can enjoy the neighborhood's beauty and culinary delights without dodging masses of tourists.
