China Through the Third Eye Garth Le Pere,2004 China has turned into the most compelling developmental phenomenon in recent history It is also playing an increasingly important role in the political and economic life of South Africa in particular and Africa in general Growing numbers of South Africans are making their way to the Middle Kingdom many of them at the invitation of the Chinese government to gain first hand experience of this fascinating country and are returning with impressions that are not always captured or shared This book is the first attempt to collate some of these views and insights The contributions are eloquent testimony to the growing interest by South Africans of different callings in making sense of the Chinese genius It is hoped that they will prove useful not only to students of China but will also provide an introductory panorama of Chinese life and society for the South African public This is a timely volume It represents the many strides that have been taken by both countries in developing their bilateral relations since the formal establishment of diplomatic relations in January 1998 equally importantly it is a symbol of the increasing people centred contact that has since taken place Understanding the Courses We Teach John Murphy, Patricia Byrd, 2001 Teachers interesting stories about the courses they design and teach

Bibliographic Index, 2001      Current Index to Journals in Education, 2000      The Dhaka University Studies, 2004      English Language Teaching in China Jun Liu, 2007 This book examines the importance of English language teaching in China but also the need for this teaching to be modernised in order for China to better join the world economy The current trend within English teaching in China is for communicative competence that is being able to communicate with linguistic pragmatic discourse and strategic competence This volume argues that such a theoretical framework of communicative competence needs to be expanded to address both global needs and local contexts if English language teaching in China is to be successful The contributors to this volume examine every aspect of language teaching and suggest new ways in which communication and grammar can be balanced The chapters include coverage of the importance of English in a global world the theoretical framework of communicative competence the role of grammar in learning English assessing and evaluating communicative competence the starting age of learning English teaching language skills in the post methods era using multimedia in teaching and testing online learning and self learning teacher training through empowerment With its balance of theory and practice and internationally renowned contributors this guide to new approaches perspectives and standards in language teaching will be essential reading for academics interested in applied linguistics and second language acquisition and English language teaching professionals
