2.5 The Demographic Transition Model

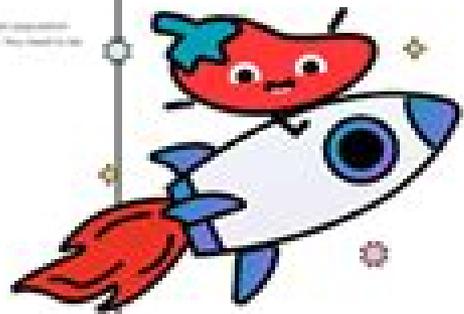

Demographic Transition Model

The Demographic Transition Model (DTM) is a model that describes the changes in population growth and development over time. It is divided into five stages: Stage 1 (High birth and death rates), Stage 2 (High birth and declining death rates), Stage 3 (Declining birth and death rates), Stage 4 (Low birth and death rates), and Stage 5 (Very low birth and death rates).

Stage 1

Stage 1 is characterized by high birth rates and high death rates. Because of this, the natural increase rate is close to zero. The population grows slowly because the death rate is so high. The population remains low because the birth rate and the death rate are both high and close to each other.
