On Display John D. Boy,Justus Uitermark,2023-12-14 Two billion people around the world use Instagram but so far social scientists have done little research on the platform Despite Instagram's reputation for shallowness the ongoing self presentation it demands confronts users with profound dilemmas Who are we What do we want to show of ourselves What do we aspire to be On Display is a book about how people remake their worlds through social media John D Boy and Justus Uitermark provide an encompassing account of how a platform that is unfailingly polished and ruthlessly judgmental shapes us and our environments They examine how personalities relations social movements urban subcultures and city streets change as they are represented on Instagram Interviews and ethnographic vignettes render an intimate account of the desires and anxieties that animate the platform Just as importantly Boy and Uitermark reveal how Instagram is implicated in social inequalities While previous accounts have argued that social media promote polarization On Display shows that this is not the case for Instagram where users belong to large and diverse networks compelling them to take many often contradictory expectations into account This means users shy away from producing statements or images that may cause offense as a way to preserve their public image and their social connections Drawing on sociological theory long term qualitative inquiry in Amsterdam and computational analyses Boy and Uitermark argue that grasping the power of Instagram and other social media platforms requires seeing them not as digital networks of communication and sharing but as a stage for the expression and affirmation of social status

Social comparisons on Instagram and users' self-esteem. How social media affects our self-perception Nick Feldmann, 2022-03-16 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2019 in the subject Psychology Media Psychology language English abstract Social networks allow us to keep in touch with people all over the world In addition to personal messages many users also post pictures and videos from their everyday lives For many people however this has not only positive effects In fact social media can also have a negative impact on our sense of well being In particular the constant comparison with the postings of other users can unsettle not only young people Nick Feldmann looks at the connection between social comparison processes on Instagram and the user's self-esteem Due to the high user numbers of social media a particularly large number of people are affected by these mechanisms Self-perception also has a major influence on success in life Feldmann therefore examines the extent to which conscious and unconscious comparison with other people in social networks affects self-worth
