Visualizing Knowledge and Creating Meaning in Ancient Writing Systems Shai Gordin, 2013-12-31

Ancient writing systems employ logographic and logophonetic principles playing on the relationship between writing script and scribal learning. The workshop proceedings published in this volume explore the way these relationships encode knowledge and meaning reflected in the social, historical, and cultural mentality of the early peoples of East Asia, China, and Japan, Anatolia, the Aegean, Egypt, and Mesoamerica. The meeting was organized in the FU Berlin on the fall of 2010 by the editor and Dr. Renata Landgrafova, now Charles University Prague, in the frame of the DFG research training group 1458 Notational Iconicity Schriftbildlichkeit headed by Prof. Eva Cancik-Kirschbaum and Prof. Sybille Kramer. The premise of our meeting was that script and the organization of texts can reveal how knowledge is transformed and transmitted among different social groups across time and space and eventually standardized as written tradition. Its multidisciplinary approach follows recent trends in the attempt to arouse debate between scholars of disparate systems of writing, be it Cuneiform, Hieroglyphic, or Linear, in nature and to discuss their elements independent of origin or cultural context. A broad perspective on ancient writing and its visual elements was established with the contributions delving into the aspects of generating knowledge and meaning.

Mycenaean Civilization Bryan Feuer, 2004-03-16

Classical Greeks considered the Mycenaean civilization to be the basis of their glorious and heroic heritage, but its material existence was not confirmed until the excavations of Heinrich Schliemann in the late nineteenth century. In the ensuing years, as with the field of archaeology in general, emphasis has shifted from revealing monuments and finding treasure to dealing with less glamorous, more scientifically oriented investigations concerning aspects such as social and political organization, economic functions, and settlement patterns. With its more than 2000 entries, this reference work serves as both an introduction to and a summary of the study of ancient Mycenaean civilization Considerably expanded from the first edition there are 500 new entries representing materials published since 1991 The largest part of the book is made up of annotated bibliography entries arranged topically with introductory material for each section The book also includes a general introduction to Mycenaean civilization a glossary and author place and subject indexes The Undeciphered Signs of Linear B Anna P. Judson, 2020-09-24 Ground breaking analysis of the Linear B undeciphered signs shedding light on the writing system and the activities of its writers The Cambridge Handbook of Historical Orthography Marco Condorelli, Hanna Rutkowska, 2023-10-12 The study of orthography spelling and writing systems and its development over the history of language is central to many areas of linguistic enquiry offering insight into syntactic and morphological structures phonology typology historical linguistics literacy and reading and the social and cultural context of language use With contributions from a global team of scholars this Handbook provides the first comprehensive overview of this rapidly developing field tracing the development of historical orthography with special emphasis on the last and present centuries Chapters are split into five key thematic areas with a focus throughout on the interplay between theory and practice It also explores the methods used in studying historical orthography and the principles involved in the development of a spelling system Providing a critical assessment of the state of the art in the field it is essential reading for anyone with an interest in writing systems and historical linguistics The Divine Verdict John Gwyn Griffiths, 1990-12-01 The theme of divine judgement has often been treated but usually with a concentration on one of its two main aspects either that which is seen in the present life and in history or that which is believed to occur only after death This new study seeks to combine the two aspects It also tries to cover the whole spectrum of the ancient religions Special attention is given to Israel Greece and Egypt Israel's neighbours are also considered and there are discussions of Judaism Christianity and Zoroastrianism In several areas notably in Egypt and Israel it is shown that punishment in this life is sometimes presented as a fate that man brings upon himself rather than as one imposed by God though always against a moral background derived from religion The origins of judgement after death in the Judaeo Christian tradition are examined in some detail and elements are traced to Egyptian Zoroastrian and Judaic sources The Minoan Pantheon Marina L. Moss, 2005 The aim of this study is to explore the archaeological evidence from a selection of sites used for religion on Crete from the Middle to Late Minoan period c 2000 c 1000 BCE interpreting the symbolism of finds in order to identify the types of deities worshipped there Finds from a selection of sites are described and discussed from sanctuaries on hills caves and rural sanctuaries where relevant other elements such as features in the landscape or the use of a site for the observation of celestial phenomena are taken into account Rather than focussing on the development and use of cult material this study uses iconography with cross cultural comparisons in order to try to identify the types of deities worshipped and to assess the nature of possible foreign influence on the religion of Crete in the Bronze Age Πεπραγμένα Θ' Διεθνούς Κρητολογικού Συνεδρίου: Σύμμεικτα ; τ.Α5.
