Covering Islam Edward W Said, 2008-09-04 From the Iranian hostage crisis through the Gulf War and the World Trade Centre bombing the West has been haunted by a spectre called Islam As portrayed by the news media and by a chorus of government academic and corporate experts Islam is synonymous with terrorism and religious hysteria At the same time Islamic countries use Islam to justify unrepresentative and often oppressive regimes In this landmark work for which he has written a new introduction one of our foremost public thinkers examines the origins and repercussions of the media's monolithic images of Islam Combining political commentary with literary criticism Edward Said reveals the hidden assumptions and distortions of fact that underlie even the most objective coverage of the Islamic world

A Gendered Palestinization of Identity Nadia Harhash, 2026-03-05 In this powerful and timely work Nadia Issam Harhash dismantles the limits of traditional philosophical canons in confronting injustice especially as experienced by women and marginalized communities Bridging feminist theories Arab Eastern philosophy and postcolonial critique she offers a framework rooted in Standpoint Theory Situated Knowledges and Intersectionality to rethink identity resistance and justice At the heart of the book lies the concept of palestinization a condition of identity under occupation that mirrors borderland existence where language bodies and belonging are constantly politicized and threatened Harhash challenges binary models of patriarchy versus matriarchy and introduces the idea of a humanness continuum reconciling gender performativity with biological difference Blending rigorous inquiry with deeply lived insight A Gendered Palestinization of Identity is both a philosophical intervention and a personal testimony a radical reimagining of what it means to think resist and reclaim humanity under the weight of Colonial Modernity

Covering Islam Edward W. Said, 1985 Using many examples Covering Islam demonstrates that the media and the government business establishment have produced a dangerously misleading and oversimplified portrait of Islam and Muslims based on ignorance inaccuracy and prejudice

Unfolding Islamophobic Racism in American Fiction Humaira Riaz, 2022-12-19 Unfolding Islamophobic Racism in American Fiction presents Islamophobia as a manifestation of racism in literary texts to understand American perspective of Islam and Muslims By deconstructing selected literary works of Lorraine Adams John Updike and Don DeLillo within Fredrickson's notion of racism as scavenger ideology Humaira Riaz argues that fiction incorporates racism cloaked in Islamophobia The author concludes that necessitating interfaith community interaction may help in decreasing religious conflicts Many of the Western and American assumptions about Islam are generated from ignorance This work proposes a thorough discursive understanding of Islam as a code of life

Going to Tehran Flynt Leverett,Hillary Mann Leverett,2013-01-08 An eye opening argument for a new approach to Iran from two of America's most informed and influential Middle East experts Balanced sober impressively document and rich in insight a valuable antidote to the warmongering that passes for analysis of Iran and US Iranian relations Andrew J Bacevich author of Breach of Trust Less than a decade after Washington endorsed a fraudulent case for invading Iraq similarly misinformed and politically motivated claims are pushing America toward war with Iran Today the stakes are even higher such a war could break the back of America's strained superpower status Challenging the daily clamor of US saber rattling Flynt and Hillary Mann Leverett argue that America should renounce thirty years of failed strategy and engage with Iran just as Nixon revolutionized U S foreign policy by going to Beijing and realigning relations with China Former analysts in both the Bush and Clinton administrations the Leveretts offer a uniquely informed account of Iran as it actually is today not as many have caricatured it or wished it to be They show that Iran s political order is not on the verge of collapse that most Iranians still support the Islamic Republic and that Iran s regional influence makes it critical to progress in the Middle East Drawing on years of research and access to high level officials Going to Tehran explains how Iran sees the world and why its approach to foreign policy is hardly the irrational behavior of a rogue nation A bold call for new thinking the Leveretts indispensable work makes it clear that America must go to Tehran if it is to avert strategic catastrophe There is a whole slew of highly dubious assumptions and narratives about Iran that are rarely challenged in any meaningful way in media circles Going to Tehran is vital to thinking critically about these claims Because of their expertise and their long immersion in these issues the Leveretts and this book deserve a prominent voice in any serious debate about Iran Glenn Greenwald The Guardian Read this book You ll find a lot of information that s not generally available and valuable insights that are sharply at odds with conventional views in the United States This book may help if it s widely enough understood to halt a very clear drift toward what could be a terrible war Noam Chomsky Foreign Policy Challenges in the 21st Century Michael Heazle, Martin Griffiths, Tom Conley, 2009 This book explores the emerging challenges to foreign policymaking in liberal democracies and the adequacy of the marketplace of ideas in responding to these challenges Looking at foreign policy challenges as diverse as democratization globalization and climate change from the role of values in environmental debate to the Iraq invasion and the war on drugs the contributors critically examine how key global issues are framed in public debate across three of the world s most mature liberal democracies the US the UK and Australia The book contributes to a better understanding of the limits of the marketplace of ideas in helping to produce wise and accountable policy and how those limits may soon be overcome Examining how key global issues are framed in foreign policy debate across a range of liberal democratic societies this book will strongly appeal to academics and students with an interest in international relations policymaking and politics as well as to governmental and think tank policymakers and advisors □□□ Ferial J. Ghazoul, 2005 Covering the multi faceted career of Edward Said with emphasis on his critical contribution to decolonization and resistance to hegemony this book includes articles exploring in depth of Said s political critical and aesthetic positions including his views on the Palestinian question and exile on Orientalism and representation and more Jesus in an Age of Terror James G. Crossley, 2008 This book applies the work of Noam Chomsky Edward Herman Edward Said and several others on international politics and the supportive role of the media intellectuals and academics to contemporary Christian origins and New Testament scholarship Part One looks at the ways in which New Testament and Christian origins scholarship has historically been influenced by its political and social settings over the past hundred years or so Moving on to the present the following chapter then applies Herman and Chomskys propaganda model of manufacturing consent in the mass media to the recent explosion of biblical scholars writing on the internet in particularly biblio bloggers It is clear that political views in biblio blogging conform strikingly to the emphases that come through in Herman and Chomskys analysis of the mass media and intellectuals particularly with the standard lines on the war on terror and views on the contemporary Middle East The rest of the book takes up modified key areas of the propaganda model in more detail Part Two looks at the Orientalist rhetoric of clashing civilisations and how this relates to the war on terror and the creation of Islam Arabs Middle East etc as the Great Enemy in the media and relevant intellectual thought since the 1970s and to use Derek Gregory's phrase hideously emboldened in the war on terror The next chapter then shows how this context has had a highly noticeable impact on the use of social sciences in New Testament and Christian origins scholarship in particular the stark generalisations of scholars using cultural social anthropology based on contemporary studies of the Middle East Disturbingly some of this scholarship has many rhetorical links with Anglo American foreign policy interests in the Middle East and beyond making some politically charged statements that cohere closely with recent intellectual defences of actions in Iraq Palestine and beyond Part Three looks at issues of Palestine and Israel in the media alongside Christian secular and relevant intellectual thought since the Six Day War of 1967 focusing in particular on the dramatic shift towards widespread support for Israel This also includes an analysis of the recent and controversial case of Nadia Abu el Hajs tenure at Barnard The following chapter shows how this interest in Israel has had a profound impact on historical Jesus and Christian origins studies particularly the strange emphasis on Jewishness and misplaced allegations of antisemitism since the 1970s Despite the shift in support of Israel this is rarely done for love of Jews Judaism Israel or Israelis because there remains a notable cultural political and religious superiority in Anglo American scholarship While owing much also to an Orientalist tradition this too is strongly echoed in scholarship of Christian origins where for all the emphasis on the Jewishness of Jesus and the first Christians it is extremely common to find Jesus or the first Christians being better than Judaism or overriding key symbols of Judaism as constructed by scholarship done ironically by frequent ignoring of relevant Jewish texts The end results of contemporary scholarship are not dramatically different from the results of the anti Jewish and antisemitic scholarship of much of the twentieth century

Islamophobia Runnymede Trust. Commission on British Muslims and Islamophobia, Richard Stone, Hugh Muir, 2004. The word Islamophobia was first used in print in 1991 and was defined in the 1997 Runnymede Trust report as unfounded hostility towards Islam and therefore fear or dislike of all or most Muslims. This follow-up report seven years on considers events and trends since 1997 and outlines essential things that still need to be done. This report describes the nature of Islamophobia in modern Britain and the impact of September 11 and the ensuing wars. It stresses that a major challenge is to build constructive ways of airing disagreements and engaging in debate. It looks at four main areas of social, political and cultural life: recognition of Muslim identities in the census and the legal system; tasks facing schools; community cohesion at street and neighbourhood level; and ways of affecting media coverage. The book closes by citing the 60 recommendations that were made in the 1997 report and reviewing the progress that has and has not yet been made. It contains statistics, arguments, original research, interviews and facts, and a wide range of lively quotations. With its substantial bibliography and long list of useful websites, this is the authoritative publication on the subject of Islamophobia. Islamophobia: issues, challenges and action will be an invaluable practical guide for years to come and will be of interest to a wide range of professionals in education, government, law and the media. Published in collaboration with the Uniting Britain Trust.
