(Chapter - 4) (Structure of the Atom) (Exercises)

(Class - IX)

Question 1:

Compare the properties of electrons, protons and neutrons.

Answer 1:

Electron	Proton	Neutron
(i) Electron are present outside the nucleus of an atom.	(i) Proton are present in the nucleus of an atom.	(i) Neutron are present in the nucleus of an atom.
(ii) Electron are negatively charged	(ii) Proton are positively charged.	(ii) Neutron are neutral.
(iii) The mass of an electron is considered to negligible.	(iii) The mass of a proton is approximately 2000 times as the mass of an electron	(iii) The mass of neutron is nearly equal to the mass of a proton.

Question 2:

What are the limitations of J.J. Thomson's model of the atom?

Answer 2:

According to J.J. Thomson's model of an atom, an atom consists of a positively charged sphere with electrons embedded in it. However, it was later found that the positively charged particles reside at the center of the atom called the nucleus, and the electrons revolve around the nucleus.

Question 3:

What are the limitations of Rutherford's model of the atom?

Answer 3:

According to Rutherford's model of an atom, electrons revolve around the nucleus in fixed orbits. But, an electron revolving in circular orbits will not be stable because during revolution, it will experience acceleration. Due to acceleration, the electrons will lose energy in the form of radiation and fall into the nucleus. In such a case, the atom would be highly unstable and collapse.

Question 4:

Describe Bohr's model of the atom.

Answer 4:

Bohr's model of the atom Niels Bohr proposed the following postulates regarding the model of the atom.

- > Only certain orbits known as discrete orbits of electrons are allowed inside the atom.
- > While revolving in these discrete orbits, the electrons do not radiate energy. These discrete orbits or shells are shown in the following diagram.

The first orbit (i.e., for $n = 1$) is represented by letter K. Similarly, for $n = 2$, it is L - shell, for $n = 3$, it is M - shell and for $n = 4$, it is N - shell. These orbits or shells are also called energy levels.

Active Learning in College Science Joel J. Mintzes, Emily M. Walter, 2020-02-23 This book explores evidence based practice in college science teaching It is grounded in disciplinary education research by practicing scientists who have chosen to take Wieman's 2014 challenge seriously and to investigate claims about the efficacy of alternative strategies in college science teaching In editing this book we have chosen to showcase outstanding cases of exemplary practice supported by solid evidence and to include practitioners who offer models of teaching and learning that meet the high standards of the scientific disciplines Our intention is to let these distinguished scientists speak for themselves and to offer authentic guidance to those who seek models of excellence Our primary audience consists of the thousands of dedicated faculty and graduate students who teach undergraduate science at community and technical colleges 4 year liberal arts institutions comprehensive regional campuses and flagship research universities In keeping with Wieman's challenge our primary focus has been on identifying classroom practices that encourage and support meaningful learning and conceptual understanding in the natural sciences The content is structured as follows after an Introduction based on Constructivist Learning Theory Section I the practices we explore are Eliciting Ideas and Encouraging Reflection Section II Using Clickers to Engage Students Section III Supporting Peer Interaction through Small Group Activities Section IV Restructuring Curriculum and Instruction Section V Rethinking the Physical Environment Section VI Enhancing Understanding with Technology Section VII and Assessing Understanding Section VIII The book's final section IX is devoted to Professional Issues facing college and university faculty who choose to adopt active learning in their courses The common feature underlying all of the strategies described in this book is their emphasis on actively engaging students who seek to make sense of natural objects and events Many of the strategies we highlight emerge from a constructivist view of learning that has gained widespread acceptance in recent years In this view learners make sense of the world by forging connections between new ideas and those that are part of their existing knowledge base For most students that knowledge base is riddled with a host of naive notions misconceptions and alternative conceptions they have acquired throughout their lives To a considerable extent the job of the teacher is to coax out these ideas to help students understand how their ideas differ from the scientifically accepted view to assist as students restructure and reconcile their newly acquired knowledge and to provide opportunities for students to evaluate what they have learned and apply it in novel circumstances Clearly this prescription demands far more than most college and university scientists have been prepared for
