book to the extent I have now purchased The Witch's Tree and plan to purchase all her other books in this genre. If you like time travel ghost stories with witches thrown in then you should enjoy The Cornish Witch. I almost didn't want this book to finish. Part ghost story and historical romance I really enjoyed it. A perfect companion for a winter night. One of the best books I've ever read. It's virtually impossible to put down. It evokes all types of passion from sadness to joy. Praise for Elena Collins. The emotionally powerful story of Katherine Ferrers really gripped me and the spooky sightings of her ghost were spine tingling. Elena writes so beautifully and weaves the threads of the stories together so masterfully. Both heartbreaking and hopeful it's a brilliant read. Nicola Cornick. A wonderful book by a fabulous author. Very highly recommended. Louise Douglas. The Lady of The Loch held me spellbound from the first page to the last. With two storylines beautifully woven together to create a seamless tale of love, loss, betrayal and above all hope it's a must read. Collins's detailed knowledge of the period trickles through the tale wrapping the reader in a vivid shifting world as it moves between the 14th century and present day. Cleverly researched and exquisitely written. The Lady of The Loch is a timeless story of hope, family and love. I loved it.

Considering the implications of gender in the context of supporting children, families and practitioners, this book examines the theoretical contexts that surround gender identity and explores current legislation and practice in order to provide practitioners with all the information they need to develop their own work and settings in an open and equal way. Offering a wealth of practical guidance, case studies and reflective questions which link to the EYFS chapters, cover a theoretical approach to gender development, current legislation and the impact on early years practice, understanding gender fluidity and the way in which children express gender, creating gender equality when working with children and the role of manager in creating a supportive ethos.
