De Economist Volume 4:

Essays on Money, Banking, and Regulation C.J.M Kool,Joan Muysken,Tom van Veen,2012-12-06 Essays on Money Banking and Regulation honors the interests and achievements of the Dutch economist Conrad Oort The book is divided into four parts Part 1 Fiscal and monetary policy reviews a variety of topics ranging from the measurement of money to the control and management of government expenditures Part 2 International institutions and international economic policy looks at the international dimension of monetary and fiscal policy with extensive discussion of the International Monetary Fund and the European Monetary Union Part 3 The future of international banking and the financial sector in the Netherlands is an insider s view of the strategic choices facing financial institutions in the near future Finally Part 4 Taxation and reforms in the Dutch tax system is closest to Oort s research and practice since he has become known as an architect of the 1990 Dutch tax reform this part is dedicated in particular to the tax reforms suggested by Oort Regulating Competition Susanna Fellman,Martin Shanahan,2015-12-22 Cartels trusts and agreements to reduce competition between firms have existed for centuries but became particularly prevalent toward the end of the 19th century In the mid 20th century governments began to use so called cartel registers to monitor and regulate their behaviour This book provides cases studies from more than a dozen countries to examine the emergence application and eventual decline of this form of regulation Beginning with a comparison of the attitudes to regulation that led to monitoring rather than prohibiting cartels this book examines the international studies on cartels undertaken by the League of Nations before World War II This is followed by a series of studies on the context of the registers including the international context of the European Union and the importance of lobby groups in shaping regulatory outcomes using Finland as an example Section two provides a broad international comparison of several countries registers with individual studies on Norway Australia Japan Germany Sweden and the Netherlands After examining the impact of registration on business behaviour in the insurance industry this book concludes with an overview of the lessons to be learnt from 20th century efforts to regulate competition With a foreword by Harm Schroter this book outlines the rise and fall of a system that allowed nations to tailor their approach to regulating competition to their individual circumstances whilst also responding to the pressures of globalisation that emerged after the Second World War This book is suitable for those who are interested in and study economic history international economics and business history Chapter 10 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license

Population Forecasting 1895-1945 H.A. de Gans,2012-12-06 Authors scholars and scientists whose mother tongue is not one of the major languages of international communication are seriously disadvantaged Some individuals such as Joseph Conrad or Vladimir Nabokov have overcome that handicap brilliantly Others learn to live with it they can express themselves sufficiently lucidly in a second language to make their voice heard internationally At least when they have something original or striking to say they will be certain to reach their peers Most scientists and scholars fall into that category Others again have to wait until their work has been translated before its value is recognised This may apply even to those whose mother tongue is widely read The writings of Frenchmen Lyotard Derrida Baudrillard or Foucault on post modernism on language discourse and power for example had tremendous world wide impact only after English translations appeared on the market De Gans study of the development of population forecasting in The Nether lands is another striking illustration of the effects a language barrier may have He demonstrates convincingly that although a possibly some what awkward Dutchman named Wiebols was a pioneer of modern cohort component demographic forecasting he never received international recognition for this In his thesis of 1925 Wiebols employed the newest instruments of demographic analysis in improving forecasting methodology Expenditure on Fixed Assets Mansvelt,2012-12-06 number of these concerns may be compared with capitalist enterprises ways derived from the utility s annual reports have been added to the 1 5 but generally they scarcely rise above the level of one man figures for private rail and tramways Tables 1 and 2 Expenditure n concerns Although it is true that when taken individually the fixed assets by the Gemeenschappelijke Mijnbouw Maatschappij Billi allocations for increasing productive capacity in these concerns required ton Billiton Mining Company in which the Government participated only small amounts of money in many cases they were not even are taken up under Mining Table 3 Remaining public expenditure on monetary transactions at all the large number of businesses concerned production generating durable equipment and assets including the oth mean that taken as a whole these efforts amount to substantial sums It er mixed enterprises have been derived from the finalised public ac has not however proved possible to quantify these investments counts extraordinary expenditure CEI 32 Vo1 2 pp 32 35 Among other things it covers irrigation and power installations Table 1 3 The data 2 Expenditure on roads and buildings have however been excluded For the most part this research has been based on the data made Budin and De Meel29 Van der Stok 101 available by the Bureau Schadeclaims Indonesie 1 1 The data are thus confined exclusively to Dutch enterprises The report on this 1 Catalogue of Printed Books British Museum,1899 The Publishers Weekly ,1907 A List of Books (with References to Periodicals) on Immigration Library of Congress. Division of Bibliography,1907 The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record ,1925 Industrial Retardation in the Netherlands 1830-1850 Richard Griffiths,2013-03-09 Much modern Le post 17S0 economic history is concerned with success in that a vast body of literature focuses its attention upon the experience of industrialisation and economic growth or upon relative differences in performance once the growth process is underway The explanations advanced frequently hinge on those supply and demand factors perceptible during the growth period itself which may have helped or hindered economic progress The problem which arises with this approach is whether those forces attributed with having pulled a country forward were the same as those which in their absence had held it back For example the growth of inter national demand may be seen as a major stimulus in the economic development of a particular country but its effectiveness as a stimulant may have been contingent upon the prior removal of quite different obstacles to growth In these circumstances it would be quite wrong to attribute lack of earlier development to the absence of international demand Thus the study of a period preceeding discernible growth in a sector of the economy may tell historians as much about the reasons for subsequent growth as a study of the growth period itself This was my initial reason for choosing to research into the industrial development in the Netherlands in the first half of the nineteenth century that it was an interval in economic history usually interpreted as one of stagnation of missed opportunities and even of economic decline
