Fuhrmann,2007 Social System, Rationality and Revolution ,2025-02-10 New Perspectives on Austrians and World War II Gunter Bischof,Fritz Plasser,Barbara Stelzl-Marx,2011-12-31 For more than a generation after World War II official government doctrine and many Austrians insisted they had been victims of Nazi aggression in 1938 and therefore bore no responsibility for German war crimes During the past twenty years this myth has been revised to include a more complex past one with both Austrian perpetrators and victims Part one describes soldiers from Austria who fought in the German Wehrmacht a history only recently unearthed Richard Germann covers units and theaters Austrian fought in while Thomas Grischany demonstrates how well they fought Ela Hornung looks at case studies of denunciation of fellow soldiers while Barbara Stelzl Marx analyzes Austrian soldiers who were active in resistance at the end of the war Stefan Karner summarizes POW treatment on the Eastern front Part two deals with the increasingly difficult life on the Austrian homefront Fritz Keller takes a look at how Vienna survived growing food shortages Ingrid Böhler takes a rare look at life in small town Austria Andrea Strutz analyzes narratives of Jewish refugees forced to leave for the United States Peter Ruggenthaler and Philipp Lesiak examine the use of slave laborers And Brigitte Kepplinger summarizes the Nazi euthanasia program The third part deals with legacies of the war particularly postwar restitution and memory issues Based on new sources from Soviet archives Nikita Petrov describes the Red Army liberation Winfried Garscha analyzes postwar war crimes trials against Austrians Brigitte Bailer Galanda and Eva Blimlinger present a survey of postwar restitution of property And Heidemarie Uhl deals with Austrian memories of the war

Concentration Camps Alan Kramer,2025-03-26 A global and comprehensive history of a modern institution of inhumanity In popular perception concentration camps are synonymous with genocide and Nazi racial extermination Yet concentration camps were and are a global phenomenon not restricted to Nazi Germany used at times even by democracies with an astonishing range of functions Drawing together a wide range of multilingual archival research and synthesising a broad secondary literature Alan Kramer provides here a comprehensive history of concentration camps charting their first establishment at the beginning of the twentieth century on the colonial periphery through their most extreme and inhuman instances in the mid twentieth century to their continued use today Concentration camps are shown to be a truly transnational phenomenon that emerged both simultaneously within and between imperial spheres Britain Spain the USA and Germany around 1900 and diachronically from then to the First World War the Gulag and Nazi camps Such camps existed and exist under a variety of regimes often concomitant with empire building by revolutionary dictatorships as sites of genocide mass murder and performative violence but also as central elements of utopian schemes of social and racial transformation Integrating the perspective of perpetrators and the victims and contextualising them within the historiography of other carceral institutions the book will reshape the way we think about concentration camps as part of modern civilization past and present

Linking Networks: The Formation of Common Standards and Visions for Infrastructure Development

Hans-Liudger Dienel,2016-05-06 Presenting recent research on the international integration of infrastructures in Europe this book combines general and methodological chapters and examples from different a variety of sectors such as transport electricity and communication networks Particular focus is on the contrast between the Europe of nation states of the nineteenth century up to 1914 and the emerging integrated Europe after World War II Additional contributions provide perspectives from beyond Europe The wide range of topics gives a good overview of the different challenges posed and the strategies employed in each sector to establish internationally compatible networks procedures and standards This work strengthens comparative research as a complement to the detailed analysis of singular cases that often characterises previous works in this field Methodologically it therefore contributes to the progress of tools and strategies for comparative historical research Part of the emerging research area dealing with the mechanisms of international collaboration this book brings together recent research from European integration history policy studies political economy and cultural studies

Considering the growing intensity of international collaboration and exchange in many parts of social and economic life it is also of topical interest
