Examiners pediatric content Epidemiology, Evidence-Based Care, and Outcomes in Spinal Cord Injury Nader Fallah, Lisa N. Sharwood, Vanessa K. Noonan, Candice Cheung, 2024-03-12 Spinal cord injury SCI is a life altering condition that has a profound effect on an individual's motor sensory and autonomic functions which impacts their ability to participate in society and decreases their quality of life There are emerging innovations that can help restore neurological function and existing best practices that can be implemented today to improve care however these are not consistently applied in practice or understood by individuals with SCI and their families It is estimated to take an average of 17 years for research evidence to be translated into practice To shorten this timeframe there is a need to understand the current epidemiology of SCI in the context of an aging population quantify the economic impact determine the effect of the injury on outcomes e.g. neurology function mortality quality of life and ensure the knowledge is implemented so individuals living with SCI can benefit

Poisoning in the Modern World Ozgur Karcioglu, Banu Arslan, 2019-06-19 Over 400 years ago Swiss alchemist and physician Paracelsus 1493-1541 cited "All substances are poisons; there is none that is not a poison. The right dose differentiates a poison from a remedy." This is often condensed to "The dose makes the poison." So why are we overtly anxious about intoxications? In fact, poisons became a global problem with the industrial revolution. Pesticides, asbestos, occupational chemicals, air pollution, and heavy metal toxicity maintain high priority worldwide, especially in developing countries. Children between 0 and 5 years old are the most vulnerable to both acute and chronic poisonings, while older adults suffer from the chronic effects of chemicals. This book aims to raise awareness about the challenges of poisons to help clinicians understand current issues in toxicology. Insights in Gender, Sex and Sexualities: 2022 Kath Woodward, 2024-03-19 As we enter the third decade of the 21st century, the field of sociology plays a more crucial role in understanding the contemporary world than ever before. Analyzing the role of sociology and human behavior in areas as diverse as medical sociology, gender, and experience, inequalities, migration, and society, race, and ethnicity, and the work sphere is crucial in grasping and understanding the evolution of humanity in a societal world To this end Frontiers in Sociology is organizing a series of Research Topics to highlight the latest advancements in the field This editorial initiative led by Prof Kath Woodward Specialty Chief Editor of the Gender Sex and Sexualities section is focused on new insights novel developments current challenges recent advances and future perspectives in the field

What's Making Our Children Sick? Michelle Perro, Vincanne Adams, 2017-11-22 Exploring the links between GM foods glyphosate and gut health With chronic disorders among American children reaching epidemic levels hundreds of thousands of parents are desperately seeking solutions to their children's declining health often with little medical guidance from the experts What's Making Our Children Sick convincingly explains how agrochemical industrial production and genetic modification of foods is a culprit in this epidemic Is it the only culprit No Most chronic health disorders have multiple causes and require careful disentanglement and complex treatments But what if toxicants in our foods are a major culprit one that if corrected could lead to tangible results and increased health Using patient accounts of their clinical experiences and new medical insights about pathogenesis of chronic pediatric disorders taking us into gut dysfunction and the microbiome as well as the politics of food science this book connects the dots to explain our kids ailing health What's Making Our Children Sick explores the frightening links between our efforts to create higher yield cost efficient foods and an explosion of childhood morbidity but it also offers hope and a path to effecting change The predicament we now face is simple Agroindustrial innovation in a previous era hoped to prevent the ecosystem disaster of DDT predicted in Rachel Carson's seminal book in 1962 Silent Spring However this industrial agriculture movement has created a worse disaster a toxic environment and consequently a toxic food supply Pesticide use is at an all time high despite the fact that biotechnologies aimed to reduce the need for them in the first place Today these chemicals find their way into our livestock and food crop industries and ultimately onto our plates Many of these pesticides are the modern day equivalent of DDT However scant research exists on the chemical soup of poisons that our children consume on a daily basis As our food supply environment reels under the pressures of industrialization via agrochemicals our kids have become the walking evidence of this failed experiment What's Making Our Children Sick exposes our current predicament and offers insight on the medical responses that are available both to heal our kids and to reverse the compromised health of our food supply Perro and Adams book is an alarming eye opening read that documents more clearly than ever the devastating consequences that pervasive pesticide use in food production is having on our health and the urgent need to protect our children from a system that prefers we treat illness and disease with pills rather than prevention
