reviewing the issue of degree non completion as well as college adjustment challenges that all students and those in each of the targeted groups face Subsequent chapters in section one explore models of traditional and non traditional student transition persistence and belonging address what peer mentoring can realistically achieve and present a rubric for categorizing college student peer mentoring programs The final chapter in section one provides a detailed framework for assessing students adjustment issues to determine which ones peer mentoring programs can appropriately address Section two of the guidebook shifts from the theoretical to the practical by covering the nuts and bolts of developing a college student peer mentoring program The initial chapter in section two covers a range of design issues including establishing a program timeline developing a budget securing funding getting commitments from stakeholders hiring staff recruiting mentors and mentees and developing policies and procedures Subsequent chapters analyze the strengths and limitations of different program delivery options from paired and group face to face mentoring to their e mentoring equivalents offer guidance on the creation of program content and resources for mentors and mentees and provide mentor training exercises and curricular guidelines Section two concludes by outlining processes for evaluating programs including setting goals collecting appropriate data and methods of analysis and by offering advice on sustaining and institutionalizing programs Each chapter opens with a case study illustrating its principal points This book is primarily intended as a resource for student affairs professionals and program coordinators who are developing new peer mentoring programs or considering refining existing ones It may also serve as a text in courses designed to train future peer mentors and leaders

Transformative Practices for Minority Student Success Dina C. Maramba, Timothy P. Fong, 2023-07-03 Between 2000 and 2015 the Asian American Pacific Islander population grew from nearly 12 million to over 20 million at 72% percent recording the fastest growth rate of any major ethnic and racial group in the US This book the first to focus wholly on Asian American and Native American Pacific Islander Institutions AANAPISIs and their students offers a corrective to misconceptions about these populations and documents student services and leadership programs innovative pedagogies models of community engagement and collaborations across academic and student affairs that have transformed student outcomes The contributors stress the importance of disaggregating this population that is composed of over 40 ethnic groups that vary in immigrant histories languages religion educational attainment levels and socioeconomic status This book recognizes there is a large population of underserved Asian American and Pacific Islander college students who given their educational disparities are in severe need of attention The contributors describe effective practices that enable instructors to validate the array of students specific backgrounds and circumstances within the contexts of developing such skills as writing leadership and cross cultural communication for their class cohorts as a whole They demonstrate that paying attention to the diversity of student experiences in the teaching environment enriches the learning for all The timeliness of this volume is important because of the keen interest across the nation for creating equitable environments for our increasingly diverse students This book serves as an important resource for predominantly white institutions who are admitting greater numbers of API and other underrepresented students It also offers models for other minority serving institutions who face similar complexities of multiple national or ethnic groups within their populations provides ideas and inspiration for the AANAPISI community and guidance for institutions considering applying for AANAPISI status and funding This book is for higher education administrators faculty researchers student affairs practitioners who can learn from AANAPISIs how to successfully engage and teach students with widely differing cultural backgrounds and educational circumstances Captivating Classrooms Nicholas D. Young,Christine N. Michael,Jennifer A. Smolinski,2018-11-23 Captivating Classrooms explores the specific role that student engagement plays in education it argues that there are myriad factors that undergird meaningful student learning and participation such as motivation exciting teaching strategies reinventing literacy instruction and authentic assessment This book is an extremely valuable handbook for school leaders teachers and support staff as well as for parents of PK 12 students aspiring educators and higher education faculty who prepare pre service teachers and administrators This is a must read for those who are committed to helping all students find their purpose and passion in education

Blanton,2008-07-24 This is the first comprehensive data based study of the benefits to students who actively participate in authentic science research programs The book features contributors from a variety of institutions who bring together studies of undergraduate research programs They focus on identifying the successful elements of each program and then draw valuable conclusions about the effects those programs have on the students Providing much needed information about the organization and administration of programs and the challenges to create and sustain viable research opportunities this essential resource Features a variety of perspectives including those of external evaluators longtime program directors participants and administrators Identifies the characteristics of effective programs and the kinds of gains that faculty and administrators can expect from them Examines the barriers to research opportunities including lack of departmental and institutional resources and inadequate faculty compensation Can be used as a primer for creating programs and for determining their effectiveness

Developing an Effective Teacher Mentor Program Melvin P. Heller,Nancy W.

Sindelar,1991 School districts considering a mentoring program need to consider four things 1 the reasons for a teacher mentor program 2 how to start such a program 3 administrative support needed for a successful program and 4 pitfalls to avoid The reasons for having a mentor program are that it benefits the new teacher the mentor and the school The new teacher s opportunities to exchange views with an experienced teacher is a distinct benefit to him her The mentor benefits also however because of the opportunity to share views experiences and strategies The improved teaching that usually results is an asset to the school Starting a program involves six stages establishing a rationale setting criteria for the selection of mentors defining roles inviting the mentors training the mentors and evaluating the program To be successful the program must have administrative support from the board of education the superintendent the central office staff the teacher union and the principal As with any new program anticipating problems can help to avoid them Some pitfalls are overdependence on the part of the protege ego problems on the part of the mentor and the evaluation dilemma arising from the mentor s dual role of confidant and evaluator Mentorship programs promote professionalism by providing continuous staff development during the first year of teaching AMH The Handbook of Minority Student Services Charles Andrew Taylor,1986 The Theory and Practice of Peer Mentoring in Schools Rey A. Carr,2011-07-17 With a variety of options available to establishing effective peer mentoring programs this short book provides the basics to create and sustain successful peer mentoring programs where students provide responsible positive support to each other for academic and personal achievement RQ ,1990 Voices [i.e. Voices] for Democracy Paul Kelleher,Rebecca Van der Bogert,2006 Gender, Race, and Ethnicity in the Workplace: Organizational practices and individual strategies for women and minorities Margaret Foegen Karsten,2006 Resource added for the Human Resources program 101161
