The Politics of Land and Value Mi Shih, Kathe Newman, 2026-02-27 This book investigates the treatment of land as a source of money in global urban processes Probing land development at moments of value creation capture negotiation contestation and transformation it sheds light on how and why value practices matter in transforming the politics of the status quo so that the social life of land may thrive This book approaches value as a mode of practice to investigate how the deepening treatment of land as a source of municipal revenue and private profit has become a hegemonic project that penetrates and shapes key aspects of how we run cities and live our urban life Closely related is a set of issues that greatly concern urban scholars municipal planners and community organizers around the world the use and politics of land value capture LVC the role of the state in land taking and assemblage mechanisms of land development tools and their impacts public private power relations the conceptualization production negotiation and distribution of costs and benefits fiscal policy and community mobilization and political contestation Nine global case studies offer insights into the centrality of land development as a source of money the narrowing of how land is valued the resulting problematic outcomes of market capture of land value the politics of the status quo and community experimentations with counter and alternative practices A value framework serves as a heuristic to help probe the politics of land development more deeply at different moments of practice value creation value capture value negotiation value contestation and value transformation Bringing the case studies into a useful juxtaposition the value framework also outlines how to engage practices to generate a transformative politics of land under which competing value logics and the social life of land may thrive This book is particularly useful for urban scholars municipal planners community organizers educators and students in fields related to urban planning and geography and those who are interested in issues around LVC land development tools urban redevelopment public private negotiation urban political economic analysis community mobilization alternative urbanism equity and justice

The Raging 2020s Alec Ross, 2021-09-14 In the face of unprecedented global change New York Times bestselling author Alec Ross proposes a new social contract to restore the balance of power between government citizens and business in The Raging 2020s For 150 years there has been a contract Companies hold the power to shape our daily lives The state holds the power to make them fall in line And the people hold the power to choose their leaders But now this balance has shaken loose As the market consolidates the lines between big business and the halls of Congress have become razor thin Private companies have become as powerful as countries As Walter Isaacson said about Alec Ross s first book The Industries of the Future The future is already hitting us and Ross shows how it can be exciting rather than frightening Through interviews with the world s most influential thinkers and stories of corporate activism and malfeasance government failure and renewal and innovative economic and political models Ross proposes a new social contract one that resets the equilibrium between corporations the governing and the governed Capital Account Liberation Ying Yirong, Jeffrey Yi-Lin Forrest, 2015-05-13 Along with the development of economic globalization many countries have begun to relax their controls on their capital accounts However the recent financial crises in Latin American countries as well as the exchange rate crises in Southeast Asian countries have shown that there is major risk associated with capital account liberalization This book Robin Hood Math Noah Giansiracusa, 2025-08-05 How the rich and powerful use math to exploit you and what you can do to beat them at their own game Everything we do today is recorded as data that s sold to the highest bidder Plugging our personal data into impersonal algorithms has made government agencies more efficient and tech companies more profitable But all this comes at a price It s easy to feel like an insignificant number in a world of number crunchers who care more about their bottom line than your humanity It s time to flip the equation turning math into an empowering tool for the rest of us Award winning mathematician Noah Giansiracusa explains how the tech giants and financial institutions use formulas to get ahead and how anyone can use these same formulas in their everyday life You ll learn how to handle risk rationally make better investments take control of your social media and reclaim agency over the decisions you make each day In a society that all too often takes from the poor and gives to the rich math can be a vital democratizing force Robin Hood Math helps you to think for yourself act in your own best interests and thrive Federal Register, 2012-03 Lonely Planet Honolulu Waikiki & Oahu Craig McLachlan, Ryan Ver Berkmoes, 2022-02-15 Lonely Planet s Honolulu Waikiki all with your trusted travel companion Get to the heart of Honolulu Waikiki it s in every traveler s hands It s on mobile phones It s on the Internet It s everywhere and it s telling entire generations of people how to travel the world Fairfax Media Australia EBOOK: Economics: A Southern African Context, 3e J. van Rensburg, Campbell McConnell, Stanley Brue, Sean Flynn, 2021-04-22 Economics studies how people businesses and governments use resources What shapes our decisions How do we allocate goods and services What does a rational choice look like In this third edition of Economics A Southern African Context the authors expertly guide us through the key principles of economics providing a solid foundation in the subject The text combines relevant Southern African examples with a clear and accessible narrative By encouraging critical engagement with economic theories it provides a basis for examining today s economic social and
